$800 BLAZE AT BIGLER PLANT THIS MORNING

Fire caused by the explosion of an oil burner in the boiler room of the Rice, Trew and Rice Company plant, Biglerville, at 3 o'clock this morning damaged the oil burner and burned through part of the roof before it was extinguished, with a loss estimated by John S. Rice, president of the company, at $800.

The boiler room is located in a separate building adjoining the main plant, and is fireproof, except for the room. It was feared that the flames might spread to the roof of the main plant, and assistance was requested from Arendtsville and Gettysburg.

Gettysburg responded with three pumpers, the service truck and the aerial ladder truck, but their services were not needed. A Biglerville fire truck pumped water from a hydrant across the railroad tracks on E. York St. and an Arendtsville pumper drew water from the Rice, Trew and Rice pond between the plant and the high school to provide water for its booster lines. The pond has a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons and was built about two years ago for fire protection.

The fire was discovered by Harry Wolf, night watchman, who was in the main building about 200 feet from the boiler room and heard the explosion. He summoned Biglerville firemen.

Mr. Rice estimated damage to the oil burner at between $500 and $600, and to the roof at $200.

New Acme Super Market, Last Word In Food Merchandising, Will Open On Tuesday Night

Hundreds of persons have seen the new Acme Market, at Springs Ave. and West St., from the outside, and admired the new building, its large plate glass windows and its "tower" with the name in neon lights. Now they will have the long-awaited opportunity to see and shop in the interior of this, one of the most modern types of super markets.

They will be able to shop in comfort and convenience, in an entirely self-service market which during the hot and humid summer months will be many degrees cooler inside than the atmosphere outside, no matter what the weather. And they will have ample space to move around, uncrowded and unhurried. The latest in air conditioning has been installed. The wide 10 and 12-foot aisles between counters and display space will provide plenty of "elbow room." The arrangements of the "gondolas" and the merchandise in the several departments bring to this market literally the acme of convenience.

Doors Open Tuesday

The "grand opening" will be held Tuesday evening. At 6 o'clock, the big plate glass doors will be unlocked, and the public invited to view this gleaming white, brightly illuminated department store of food products and home aids. Burgess William G. Weaver will cut the ribbon in a ceremony which will precede the admittance of the first visitors.

The Gettysburg High School Band will give a concert in the huge parking lot in front of the market, and a trio will play inside the store. Fred G. Pfeffer will be master of ceremonies for the evening's entertainment which will include the awarding of many prizes for those who attend the opening. There will be special prizes for the oldest couple present, the newest married couple, the couple coming the greatest distance, the largest family, and many others.

Large Parking Lot

The parking lot will accommodate approximately 100 automobiles, providing another convenience for shoppers. It's only a short distance from the check-out counters to any automobile parked in front of the store. There will be no long distances to carry boxes or bags of groceries, no looking vainly for places to park nearby.

Mamie Expected To Limit Her Vacations

Mrs. Mamie Eisehower will limit her summer travels to brief excursions to the family farm near Gettysburg, it was reported today, and perhaps to Camp David, the presidential retreat in Maryland's Catocin mountains.

The first lady is now on vacation, but so far it's just a vacation at home in the White House. With the end of the spring social season, she is taking a breather in her own social and official activities. She intends to spend the summer relaxing and trying to stay out of the public spotlight.

When the Trumans were in the White House, Mrs. Eisenhower's predecessor used to head for Missouri with the first of Washington's hot weather. But as long as the nation's business keeps the president at his desk, Mamie expects to stay in the capital with him.

But once Congress recesses, the first family hopes to go to Colorado for a few weeks of real vacation.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL BAND UNIFORMS PLEASE SUNDAY

Under the direction of their leader, Robert G. Zeigler, the band played several selections in the street in front of the Elks' Home before entering the lodge hall where they furnished the music for the annual Flag Day ceremony.

Wearing the most formal arrangement of their seven-way uniforms, the band members attracted much favorable comment. The new cadet-style uniforms are distinctive for their white, maroon-corded chest shields and tall plume hats, chief distinguishing marks by which they differ from the old uniforms which used the same color scheme. The old uniforms had a lapel, fold-back col-

P. O. Box Rentals To Go Up July 1

An increase in the rental rates for postoffice boxes at the Gettysburg Post Office will go into effect July 1, it was announced by Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler today.

The increase is a result of the first jump in the basic schedule for postoffice box rentals since 1907. "The increased charges are made to conform with the increased cost of providing the equipment and maintaining the service," a departmental announcement said.

Mr. Oyler pointed out that while this is the first jump in the basic rental schedule in nearly half a century, Gettysburg experienced a smaller rental increase in 1949. Rental rates are based upon total postoffice revenues and the sale of the Gettysburg Lincoln Address memorial stamps boosted the annual receipts over the $100,000 mark. That level of business volume has been maintained since that time, he added.

On July 1, boxes now renting for $1 per quarter will cost $1.50; those now at $1.50 will be $2.25 and those now $2 will be $3. Before 1949, the rates on the various types of boxes were 75 cents, $1 and $1.50.

240 STUDENTS IN TRAINING SCHOOL COURSE

The plan to train the students, all of whom are officers of their local chapters, includes instructive speechs and workshops at which those attending will be given programs and promotion plans which they will carry back to their own club membership.

Today the delegates attended sessions on "What's My Job as an Officer," "Is Your Club Organized for Action," "How do We Plan Programs?" and "How Can We Make a Spiritual Impact in the Club Program?". The students have been organized into groups so that a rotation plan will permit them to include at least one workshop or more on each of the above topics.

New Acme Super Market, Last Word In Food Merchandising, Will Open On Tuesday Night

Hundreds of persons have seen the new Acme Market, at Springs Ave. and West St., from the outside, and admired the new building, its large plate glass windows and its "tower" with the name in neon lights. Now they will have the long-awaited opportunity to see and shop in the interior of this, one of the most modern types of super markets.

They will be able to shop in comfort and convenience, in an entirely self-service market which during the hot and humid summer months will be many degrees cooler inside than the atmosphere outside, no matter what the weather. And they will have ample space to move around, uncrowded and unhurried. The latest in air conditioning has been installed. The wide 10 and 12-foot aisles between counters and display space will provide plenty of "elbow room." The arrangements of the "gondolas" and the merchandise in the several departments bring to this market literally the acme of convenience.

Doors Open Tuesday

The "grand opening" will be held Tuesday evening. At 6 o'clock, the big plate glass doors will be unlocked, and the public invited to view this gleaming white, brightly illuminated department store of food products and home aids. Burgess William G. Weaver will cut the ribbon in a ceremony which will precede the admittance of the first visitors.

The Gettysburg High School Band will give a concert in the huge parking lot in front of the market, and a trio will play inside the store. Fred G. Pfeffer will be master of ceremonies for the evening's entertainment which will include the awarding of many prizes for those who attend the opening. There will be special prizes for the oldest couple present, the newest married couple, the couple coming the greatest distance, the largest family, and many others.

Large Parking Lot

The parking lot will accommodate approximately 100 automobiles, providing another convenience for shoppers. It's only a short distance from the check-out counters to any automobile parked in front of the store. There will be no long distances to carry boxes or bags of groceries, no looking vainly for places to park nearby.

Mamie Expected To Limit Her Vacations

Mrs. Mamie Eisehower will limit her summer travels to brief excursions to the family farm near Gettysburg, it was reported today, and perhaps to Camp David, the presidential retreat in Maryland's Catocin mountains.

The first lady is now on vacation, but so far it's just a vacation at home in the White House. With the end of the spring social season, she is taking a breather in her own social and official activities. She intends to spend the summer relaxing and trying to stay out of the public spotlight.

When the Trumans were in the White House, Mrs. Eisenhower's predecessor used to head for Missouri with the first of Washington's hot weather. But as long as the nation's business keeps the president at his desk, Mamie expeets to stay in the capital with him.

But once Congress recesses, the first family hopes to go to Colorado for a few weeks of real vacation.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL BAND UNIFORMS PLEASE SUNDAY

With white plumes topping their tall shako hats, the Gettysburg High School Band members made their first public appearance Sunday evening in their new maroon, white-trimmed uniforms.

Under the direction of their leader, Robert G. Zeigler, the band played several selections in the street in front o fthe Elks' Home before entering the lodge hall where they furnished the music for the annual Flag Day ceremony.

Wearing the most formal arrangement of their seven-way uniforms, the band members attracted much favorable comment. The new cadet-style uniforms are distinctive for their white, maroon-corded chest shields and tall plume hits, chief distinguishing marks by which they differ from the old uniforms which used the same color scheme. The old uniforms had a lapel, fold-back col-

P. O. Box Rentals To Go Up July 1

An increase in the rental rates for postoffice boxes at the Gettysburg Post Office will go into effect July 1, it was announced by Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler today.

The increase is a result of the first jump in the basic schedule for postoffice box rentals since 1907. "The increased charges are made to conform with the increased cost of providing the equipment and maintaining the service," a departmental announcement said.

Mr. Oyler pointed out that while this is the first jump in the basic rental schedule in nearly half a century, Gettysburg experienced a smaller rental increase in 1949. Rental rates are based upon total postoffice revenues and the sale of the Gettysburg Lincoln Address memorial stamps boosted the annual receipts over the $100,000 mark. That level of business volume has been maintained since that time, he added.

On July 1, boxes now renting for $1 per quarter will cost $1.50; those now at $1.50 will be $2.25 and those now $2 will be $3. Before 1949, the rates on the various types of boxes were 75 cents, $1 and $1.50.

240 STUDENTS IN TRAINING SCHOOL COURSE

The program, which opened Sunday with registration and general assembly, will continue through Wednesday. The plan to train the students, all of whom are officers of their local chapters, includes instructive speeches and workshops at which those attending will be given programs and promotion plans which they will carry back to their own club membership.

Today the delegates attended sessions on "What's My Job as an Officer," "Is Your Club Organized for Action," "How do We Plan Programs?" and "How Can We Make a Spiritual Impact in the Club Program?". The students have been organized into groups so that a rotation plan will permit them to include at least one workshop or more on each of the above topics.

REV. KORTE IS SPEAKER AT 4-H SERVICE SUNDAY

"Through knowledge of our traditions and heritage we gain increased love for our nation and become better citizens," Rev. Edwerth Korte, Gettysburg College chaplain declared Sunday evening at the annual 4-H Rural Life Vespers held at the Peace Light on the Gettysburg Battlefield.

"No finer spot could be chosen for a service on your theme, 'Developing Citizenship Through 4-H' than this present site, on the hallowed battlefield where men fought to preserve our nation, and before the symbolism of this Eternal Light, representing the light of peace shining for all nations."

He told three "modern parables," true stories to stress helpfulness to others. One was based on a Philadelphia hotel clerk, who gave up his own room to permit a visitor and his family to have a night's lodging. As a result he was selected manager of the finest hotel in the city.

Another "parable" concerned a young man, who, when he found he had cancer and but two months to live, gave his body toward cancer research, to help his fellow man. The third concerned a Buddist monk and Christian missionary struggling through a storm to a mountain monastery. They heard a cry for help. The Buddhist followed his religion of "fate" and continued on. The Christian went to the aid of the fallen traveler. The Christian, kept warm by his exertions in helping save the man who had fallen, survived to reach the monastery; the Buddhist froze in the storm.

Jay Crouse was chairman for the service, Ted Crouse gave the call to worship. The scripture was read by Dorothy Wetzel and Glenn Zepp offered the prayer. Musical numbers were presented by Nancy Slusser on the saxophone and Joann Snyder on the clarinet. The candlelighting service was presented by Larene Tate, Caroline Hiemer, Atlee Breighner, Betty Griest and Roy Weaner.

REV. KORTE IS SPEAKER AT 4-H SERVICE SUNDAY

"Through knowledge of our traditions and heritage we gain increased love for our nation and become better citizens," Rev. Edwerth Korte, Gettysburg College chaplain declared Sunday evening at the annual 4-H Rural Life Vespers held at the Peace Light on the Gettysburg Battlefield.

"No finer spot could be chosen for a service on your theme, 'Devoloping Citizenship Through 4-H' than this present site, on the hallowed battlefield where men fought to preserve our nation, and before the symbolism of this Eternal Light, representing the light of peace shining for all nations."

He told three "modern parables," true stories to stress helpfulness to others. One was based on a Philadelphia hotel clerk, who gave up his own room to permit a visitor and his family to have a night's lodging. As a result he was selected manager of the finest hotel in the city.

Another "parable" concerned a young man, who, when he found he had cancer and but two months to live, gave his body toward cancer research, to help his fellow man. The third concerned a Buddist monk and Christian missionary struggling through a storm to a mountain monastery. They heard a cry for help. The Buddhist followed his religion of "fate" and continued on. The Christian went to the aid of the fallen traveler. The Christian, kept warm by his exertions in helping save the man who had fallen, survived to reach the monastery; the Buddhist froze in the storm.

Jay Crouse was chairman for the service, Ted Crouse gave the call to worship. The scripture was read by Dorothy Wetzel and Glenn Zepp offered the prayer. Musical numbers were presented by Nancy Slusser on the saxophone and Joann Snyder on the clarinet. The candlelighting service was presented by Larene Tate, Caroline Hiemer, Atlee Breighner, Betty Griest and Roy Weaner.

SHRADER CAR IN HANOVER CRASH

Fred E. Kauffman, 20, Hanover, Saturday pleaded guilty to colliding with a car at Baltimore and E. Middle Sts., Hanover, and failing to stop and reveal his identity while being pursued by a police cruiser car for two alleged traffic violations prior to the mishap.

Hanover police said they were chasing Kauffman for driving too fast for conditions and failing to stop for a red blinker traffic signal and fainally halted him in the 700-block Baltimore St.

Unaware that Kauffman had collided with the car of Dorothy A. Shrader, New Oxford R. 1, after he turned off E. Middle St. and headed south on Baltimore St., police notified Kauffman to appear for a hearing in police court and then released him.

A short time later, police said, they received a complaint from the Adams County motorist that her car had been struck at the intersection. She gave a description of the car which fitted that of Kauffman's.

Picked up at his home, Kauffman was taken before Justice of the Peace George A. Lippy, Hanover, and pleaded guilty to the hit-run charge. He posted $500 bail for York County Sentence Court on June 22.

30,000 Enemy Troops Pierce Allied Lines For Two Miles

SEOUL (AP) — Thirty thousand Communists ripped into Allied lines today, breaking through as deep as two miles in the mightiest Red offensive in two years.

Two South Korean divisions on the East-Central Front buckled under an assault by two fresh Chinese divisions—about 20,000 soldiers.

A few miles to the west, another 10,000 Reds pierced Allied lines in several places before they were halted in bloody trench fighting by infantrymen of the U. S. 3rd and South Korean 9th Divisions.

U. S. airmen flying shuttle missions dumped more than 2,225,000 pounds of bombs on the flaming 40-mile front. Smoke of battle could be seen for 60 miles.

It was the greatest Red drive since the 1951 spring offensive, and apparently intended to gain the Communists as much ground as possible before the impending armistice.

Fighting raged throughout the day and last reports described it as "fluid"—meaning in full blast and undecided.

Push Allies Back

The Communists engulfed Capitol Hill and Outpost Texas, south of Kumsong, and had the South Korean 5th and 8th Divisions reeling south toward the Pukhan River.

Fragmentary dispatches from the front painted a bloody picture of reckless Chinese pouring over a 3,000-foot peak which dominates the area held by the two ROK divisions.

Some Allied officers considered the offensive a Communist move to punish the South Koreans, whose government has threatened to drive to the Manchurian border if a truce is signed. There was a possibility, too, that the Reds wanted one final victory before an armistice for prestige purposes.

The nearby Pukhan River and the great Hwachon Reservoir, 25 miles south of the main battle area, presumably would block any sizable Red advance.

Taylor Sounds Warning

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Eighth Army commander, went to the front for a first-hand inspection, after warning his troops in a Sunday broadcast that the impending armistice would not in itself mean an end to the war. He urged them to be ready to fight at any time if the Reds break the armistice terms.

There were no casualty reports from the major fighting. But judging from information available on lighter Chinese attacks, Red losses were staggering.

The fighting far overshadowed anything in the last two years except the ferocious 1952 battles for the Kumhwa Ridges.

Front-line officers said the Communist gains were so great that the line of demarcation between the opposing armies, supposedly being worked out by truce negotiators at Panmunjom, may have to be revised.

Allies Use 500 Planes

More than 500 Allied warplanes plastered the front-line target area sending smoke and dust nearly 9,000 feet high. Even. B26 light bombers, normally used at night or in cloudy weather, joined the shuttling Sabre jet- fighter-bombers, Thunderjets, Panther jets, Corsairs, Skyraiders and Mustangs.

Allied fighters and bombers flew a record 1,600 sorties Sunday without loss or damage to a single plane. It eclipsed the previous record of 1,525 individual flights Aug. 29.

U. S. Sabre pilots reported they destroyed two Russian-built MIGs and damaged three others Sunday.

STOCKS QUIET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was quiet and prices were mixed in early dealings today. Showing small gains were the steel, motor and utility shares. Chemicals, oils and coppers were mostly lower while televisions, electrical equipments and rails were mixed.

ROYAL SALUTES BY 17 NATIONS GIVEN TO QUEEN

By TOM OCHILTREE

ABOARD THE U. S. S. BALTIMORE OFF SPITHEAD, England (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II proudly took thunderous 21-gun royal salutes today from warships of Britain and 16 foreign navies massed in wind-whipped Portsmouth Harbor for the Coronation Naval Review.

The Queen, dressed in a white grosgrain coat trimmed with navy blue cuffs and wearing a perky white hat, smiled and waved from the royal yacht Surprise as it swept through 11 lines of gaily-decorated warships.

Duke With Her

Her sailor husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, wearing an admiral's uniform, and other members of the royal family were at her side in the glass and oak penthouse built up forward in the royal yacht.

Thousands of sailors aboard the nearly 300 big and little warships broke into mighty roars of "Three cheers for the Queen, hip hip hurrah," as the Queen and her party passed by. At a signal from Britain's mighty battleship Vanguard, ships of the fleet fired 21-gun salutes. The smoke of the guns was quickly dispersed by the strong breeze.

Later the British fleet's air arm was to stage a fly-past over the fleet and a fireworks display was scheduled tonight.

Impressive Spectacle

Next to the crowning itself, it was the most impressive of the spectacles of the crowded coronation calendar. All the ships were dressed overall—with bright international code signal flags stretching from the bows, over the masts, to the sterns.

The proud, 13,600-ton American cruiser Baltimore tugged at her anchor in a place of honor at the head of the column of foreign warships.

From the mast of the Baltimore fluttered the flag of Vice Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander in chief of U. S. Navy forces in the Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

In line behind the Baltimore came the French cruiser Montcalm and then the Russian cruiser Sverdlov, the first Soviet war craft to appear in British waters since 1037. Canvas screens hid most of her topside but she appeared as polished and as modern in design as any ship on hand.

DENY INCREASE IN PHONE RATES

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—The New Jersey Supreme Court today affirmed a decision by the Public Utilities Commission denying the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. a $9,800,000 rate increase.

The PUC on Aug. 15, 1951, denied the telephone company's application for an increase of from five to 10 cents for local coin box calls and for increases all along the line on residential and business telephone rates.

The PUC denied on Sept. 18, 1952, the company's petition for a rehearing on the application for an increase

The company appealed both PUC decisions to the Superior Court and then to the Supreme Court.

The high bench affirmed the PUC decisions 4 to 2, with Justice William J. Brennan not voting. Justices Harry Hener and A. Dayton Olphant voted to reverse the PUC.

In a 27-page opinion by Oliphant, the Supreme Court said "we are unable to agree" that the PUC treated the company's evidence concerning operation costs unreasonably.

PUSH PROBE OF SHOOTING OF YOUNG MOTHER

BALTIMORE (AP) —State and county police planned a conference today with State's Atty. C. Osborne Duvall before taking the next step in their investigation of the fatal shooting of a 27-year-old mother of five boys.

Lt. Martin M. Puncke of the state police said statements obtained from Francis Shaulis Jr., 31-year-old bricklayer husband of the dead woman, and from his oldest son Frank, 9, did not materially change information already gathered.

Shaulis, lodged in the Anne Arundel County Jail at Annapolis on a warrant charging murder, surrendered to state police at Hagerstown, Md., after a 40-hour flight into Pennsylvania and Western Maryland with his five young sons after the death of their mother Friday morning.

"Accidentally Shot"

Shaulis said his wife, Mary Ann, was accidentally shot, that he became panicky, packed the children —ranging from 18 months to 9 years in age—into the car and fled.

He surrendered at the home of his wife's cousin, Mrs. Harry Watkins, who quoted him as saying his wife was shot accidentally while he was cleaning his automatic and she started "kidding and carrying on."

Puncke said Shaulis repeated the "accidental part" but didn't include that he was cleaning his gun.

30,000 Enemy Troops Pierce Allied Lines For Two Miles

SEOUL (AP) — Thirty thousand Communists ripped into Allied lines today, breaking through as deep as two miles in the mightiest Red offensive in two years.

Two South Korean divisions on the East-Central Front buckled under an assault by two fresh Chinese divisions—about 20,000 soldiers.

A few miles to the west, another 10,000 Reds pierced Allied lines in several places before they were halted in bloody trench fighting by infantrymen of the U. S. 3rd and South Korean 9th Divisions.

U. S. airmen flying shuttle missions dumped more than 2,225,000 pounds of bombs on the flaming 40-mile front. Smoke of battle could be seen for 60 miles.

It was the greatest Red drive since the 1951 spring offensive, and apparently intended to gain the Communists as much ground as possible before the impending armistice.

Fighting raged throughout the day and last reports described it as "fluid"—meaning in full blast and undecided.

Push Aliies Back

The Communists engulfed Capitol Hill and Outpost Texas, south of Kumsong, and had the South Korean 5th and 8th Divisions reeling south toward the Pukhan River.

Fragmentary dispatches from the front painted a bloody picture of reckless Chinese pouring over a 3,000-foot peak which dominates the area held by the two ROK divisions.

Some Allied officers considered the offensive a Communist move to punish the South Koreans, whose government has threatened to drive to the Manchurian border if a truce is signed. There was a possibility, too, that the Reds wanted one final victory before an armistice for prestige purposes.

The nearby Pukhan River and the great Hwachon Reservoir, 25 miles south of the main battle area, presumably would block any sizable Red advance.

Taylor Sounds Warning

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Eighth Army commander, went to the front for a first-hand inspection, after warning his troops in a Sunday broadcast that the impending armistice would not in itself mean an end to the war. He urged them to be ready to fight at any time if the Reds break the armistice terms.

There were no casualty reports from the major fighting. But judging from information available on lighter Chinese attacks, Red losses were staggering.

The fighting far overshadowed anything in the last two years except the ferocious 1952 battles for the Kumhwa Ridges.

Front-line officers said the Communist gains were so great that the line of demarcation between the opposing armies, supposedly being worked out by truce negotiators at Panmunjom, may have to be revised.

Allies Use 500 Planes

More than 500 Allied warplanes plastered the front-line target area sending smoke and dust nearly 9,000 feet high. Even B26 light bombers, normally used at night or in cloudy weather, joined the shuttling Sabre jet fighter-bombers, Thunderjets, Panther jets, Corsairs, Skyraiders and Mustangs.

Allied fighters and bombers flew a record 1,600 sorties Sunday without loss or damage to a single plane. It eclipsed the previous record of 1,525 individual flights Aug. 29.

U. S. Sabre pilots reported they destroyed two Russian-built MIGs and damaged three others Sunday.

STOCKS QUIET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was quiet and prices were mixed in early dealings today. Showing small gains were the steel, motor and utility shares. Chemicals, oils and coppers were mostly lower while televisions, electrical equipments and rails were mixed.

ROYAL SALUTES BY 17 NATIONS GIVEN TO QUEEN

By TOM OCHILTREE

ABOARD THE U. S. S. BALTIMORE OFF SPITHEAD, England (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II proudly took thunderous 21-gun royal salutes today from warships of Britain and 16 foreign navies massed in wind-whipped Portsmouth Harbor for the Coronation Naval Review.

The Queen, dressed in a white grosgrain coat trimmed with navy blue cuffs and wearing a perky white hat, smiled and waved from the royal yacht Surprise as it swept through 11 lines of gaily-decorated warships.

Duke With Her

Her sailor husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, wearing an admiral's uniform, and other members of the royal family were at her side in the glass and oak penthouse built up forward in the royal yacht.

Thousands of sailors aboard the nearly 300 big and little warships broke into mighty roars of "Three cheers for the Queen, hip hip hurrah," as the Queen and her party passed by. At a signal from Britain's mighty battleship Vanguard, ships of the fleet fired 21-gun salutes. The smoke of the guns was quickly dispersed by the strong breeze.

Later the British fleet's air arm was to stage a fly-past over the fleet and a fireworks display was scheduled tonight.

Impressive Spectacle

Next to the crowning itself, it was the most impressive of the spectacles of the crowded coronation calendar. All the ships were dressed overall—with bright international code signal flags stretching from the bows, over the masts, to the sterns.

The proud, 13,600-ton American cruiser Baltimore tugged at her anchor in a place of honor at the head of the column of foreign warships.

From the mast of the Baltimore fluttered the flag of Vice Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander in chief of U. S. Navy forces in the Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

In line behind the Baltimore came the French cruiser Montcalm and then the Russian cruiser Sverdlov, the first Soviet war craft to appear in British waters since 1037. Canvas screens hid most of her topside but she appeared as polished and as modern in design as any ship on hand.

TRINITY MARKS CHILDREN'S DAY

Children's Day was observed at Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church on Sunday at two special services in which the children of the Church School and the Vacation Church School participated. The parish hall was filled capacity for the Church School program which began at 9:15 a.m. The children of the Kindergarten and Primary Departments presented recitations and songs. A two-act drama, "The Child He Called," was ably presented by a special cast of characters under the direction of Mrs. Jennings B. Collins.

At the divine service which followed at 10:35 a.m. the children gave the Introit for the Day, Psalm 122. Chester Schultz acted as the gospeller and told the story of the last meeting of Christ and Peter. Solos were sung by Carolyn Kime and Peggy Smith. The Junior Choir presented the offertory anthem "Suffer Little Children to Come unto Me." The story sermon was entitled "In the Presence of the King."

The following members of the Junior Choir received crosses as their reward for faithful service during the past year: Carolyn and Kenneth Kime, Louise and Barclay Collins, Margaret Teeter, Cecelia Yoder, Dawson and Grace Heck, Kenneth and Betsy Hull, Chester and Rad Schultz, Barton Olinger, Peggy Smith, Jane Eiker and Ann Harner.

PUSH PROBE OF SHOOTING OF YOUNG MOTHER

BALTIMORE (AP) —State and county police planned a conference today with State's Atty. C. Osborne Duvall before taking the next step in their investigation of the fatal shooting of a 27-year-old mother of five boys.

Lt. Martin M. Puncke of the state police said statements obtained from Francis Shaulis Jr., 31-year-old bricklayer husband of the dead woman, and from his oldest son Frank, 9, did not materially change information already gathered.

Shaulis, lodged in the Anne Arundel County Jail at Annapolis on a warrant charging murder, surrendered to state police at Hagerstown, Md., after a 40-hour flight into Pennsylvania and Western Maryland with his five young sons after the death of their mother Friday morning.

"Accidentally Shot"

Shaulis said his wife, Mary Ann, was accidentally shot, that he became panicky, packed the children—ranging from 18 months to 9 years in age—into the car and fled.

He surrendered at the home of his wife's cousin, Mrs. Harry Watkins, who quoted him as saying his wife was shot accidentally while he was cleaning his automatic and she started "kidding and carrying on."

Puncke said Shaulis repeated the "accidental part" but didn't include that he was cleaning his gun.

Adams County Post-Offices: So far as we have heard, the following changes have been made, in addition to the Gettysburg and Abbottstown Post-masters as mentioned in our last. Those appointed are:

PRESIDENTIAL GOLF

Of presidential golf, I'd say,
It's seldom good.
No president I've known could play
The way he should.

The presidents of all the clubs,
Including mine,
On four par holes, like all the dubs,
Have taken nine.

Since members come with faces grim
With their complaints,
The problems that are brought to him
Would vex the saints.

"The ice, too cold; the beef, too thin;
The greens have worms."
Thus presidents can't hope to win
Throughout their terms.

DISAPPOINTMENTS

Perhaps commonest of hurt experiences are disappointments.

They come early, and this is a good thing, for we need to learn from them so as to handle the greater and more serious ones later in life.

It always gives me a thrill to see those deserving of merit and rewards justly honored, but I always have a warm feeling for those who experience disappointment. I recently watched a wrestling contest between two fine athletes. It was a tough competition between two of the best that I have ever witnessed — clean and full of thrilling holds. But the best thing about the bout was the sportsmanship between the contestants. The winner grasped the hand of the one defeated and there was a friendliness all too rare in such contests. The disappointed wrestler was cheered equally with the winner.

Baseball is my favorite sport. I like it for many reasons. Most of all because of the fine sportsmanship habitually shown, regardless of teams. The thousands of fans cheer the pitcher who is taken out when he has a bad day, for they know he did his best and they are reminded of his good days.

We all meet disappointments of various sorts, but the greatest of all disappointments is to be disappointed in one's self. Then it is that we have to share it all alone, for many times no one else knows about it. Then it is that character is strongly challenged. Then it is that we can rise above all disappointments if we have the will and the faith.

Disappointments can be borne with dignity, as they so often are, and there is a sense of pride connected with such disappointments that gives one a spiritual lift which may mean far more than if there had been no disappointments at all. To the mind and heart come a new courage and new resolves

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Interests of Others."

LAST - DITCH BATTLES BEING FOUGHT TODAY FOR ROSENBERGS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pleaders for the lives of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, condemned to die as atom spies Thursday, fought last-ditch battles today at the White House and the Supreme Court.

The street in front of the White House last night teemed with thousands of placard-bearing demonstrators, including the Rosenbergs' brown-eyed sons, Michael, 10, and Robert, 6, who brought another letter to President Eisenhower.

The Supreme Court, which has refused three times to review the case, was scheduled to rule today on an appeal filed Saturday to stay the Rosenbergs' execution set for three days hence.

To Die Thursday

The court's session was expected to be its last before it returns from summer recess Oct. 5.

If it should grant a stay of execution and agree to review the case, the lives of the husband and wife would be spared at least until a final decision next fall or winter.

If not, they must die in Sing Sing's electric chair Thursday night, unless the President should grant them executive clemency.

"There is no question about it if we are denied a stay," said the Rosenbergs' attorney, Emmanuel H. Bloch. "We will try again for executive clemency."

Claims False Testimony

Eisenhower refused their last request last Feb. 11, saying the crime of which they were convicted involved betrayal of their country. The President said they had had a fair trial.

It was upon this point that the Supreme Court appeal was based. Counsel for the condemned couple argued new evidence had been found and contended they were the victims of false testimony at the trial.

The White House demonstration was arranged by "The National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case," which picketed the White House on two other occasions last winter, but in smaller numbers.

10,000 Demonstrators

Committee sponsors include some persons prominent in organizations cited by the attorney general as subversive. The committee contends its membership is on an individual basis and, although it says it has made no background checks, assumes many members have no such affiliation.

The committee estimated yesterday's crowd at between 10,000 to 13,000, most of them from out of town. Deputy Chief Police Inspector George Wallrodt said an actual count of the marchers came to 6,832—the biggest crowd of its kind he said he had ever seen here.

Reds May Grab Korea Through Infiltration; Tough Problem

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's not a happy thought but, despite all this country has spent in lives and money to save South Korea from the Communists, they may in the end take it over.

Not necessarily by attack from without. They tried that and failed. But by a coup from within. That wouldn't be soon. But the Communists take the long view. A few years more or less don't matter. They can wait.

To them an obstacle is like a stone in a river. If they can't dislodge it by a hard push, they flow around it and eat away at it.

When they tried their hard push on South Korea no doubt they thought they could overwhelm it by the sudden fierceness of their attack before the United States or the United Nations could act to stop them.

Expert Infiltration

Since they made a mistake, and paid heavily for it in lives, material and effort, they may not try the same tactics again once a truce is reached. Why should they, if they can get what they want without firing a shot?

One obvious way would be infiltration not only among South Korean citizens but in the government itself until suddenly the Communist clique felt strong enough to seize power, as happened in Czechoslovakia.

That couldn't happen in Korea so long as U. S. troops stay there. But they won't be there forever. They'll stay while the truce lasts. They'll leave if the U. S. and China reach agreement on withdrawing their forces from North and South Korea.

Mood May Change

And it couldn't happen so long as stubborn old Syngman Rhee is President and continues to run the country with his usual iron hand. But he won't live forever.

The mood of Rhee's successors and of the South Korean people themselves may not always remain so fiercely anti-Communist as now. Under severe conditions—like a bad depression—no one could predict what the South Koreans or anyone else might do.

If a peace settlement leaves Korea divided into a southern republic and a northern Communist puppet regime, South Korea, once American troops were withdrawn, would be under unique and tremendous Communist pressure.

It would be surrounded on all sides—except where it borders the Pacific—by communism, in China and North Korea.

Big Problem A Long Time

This is a gloomy picture. It may not turn out this way at all. But it is a possibility and, because it is, the U. S. will have to think about South Korea for years to come.

Thinking about it won't be enough. A simple military alliance between the U. S. and South Korea won't be enough because a promise to help the small republic in case of attack is no barrier, by itself, against Communist infiltration.

For that reason this country may have to forge other links with the South Koreans, such as prolonged aid. Even that is no guarantee that the South Koreans will always produce the kind of government this country wants.

Lose Grounds In Italy

The U. S. has poured billions into Italy, to rehabilitate it and keep it away from the Communists, but in the recent elections there the pro-American Premier Alcide de Gasperi barely squeaked through to victory.

The Italian people so divided their votes, ranging all the way from the Communists and Socialists to the Monarchists, that the net result was to weaken De Gasperi.

YOUTHFUL CURIOSITY

The culprit was a year-and-a half-old patient whose crib had been moved into a hospital hallway. It stood under a fire alarm box which the infant occupant was just tall enough to reach.

LAST - DITCH BATTLES BEING FOUGHT TODAY FOR ROSENBERGS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pleaders for the lives of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, condemned to die as atom spies Thursday, fought last-ditch battles today at the White House and the Supreme Court.

The street in front of the White House last night teemed with thousands of placard-bearing demonstrators, including the Rosenbergs' brown-eyed sons, Michael, 10, and Robert, 6, who brought another letter to President Eisenhower.

The Supreme Court, which has refused three times to review the case, was scheduled to rule today on an appeal filed Saturday to stay the Rosenbergs' execution set for three days hence.

To Die Thursday

The court's session was expected to be its last before it returns from summer recess Oct. 5.

If it should grant a stay of execution and agree to review the case, the lives of the husband and wife would be spared at least until a final decision next fall or winter.

If not, they must die in Sing Sing's electric chair Thursday night, unless the President should grant them executive clemency.

"There is no question about it if we are denied a stay," said the Rosenbergs' attorney, Emmanuel H. Bloch. "We will try again for executive clemency."

Claims False Testimony

Eisenhower refused their last request last Feb. 11, saying the crime of which they were convicted involved betrayal of their country. The President said they had had a fair trial.

It was upon this point that the Supreme Court appeal was based. Counsel for the condemned couple argued new evidence had been found and contended they were the victims of false testimony at the trial.

The White House demonstration was arranged by "The National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case," which picketed the White House on two other occasions last winter, but in smaller numbers.

10,000 Demonstrators

Committee sponsors include some persons prominent in organizations cited by the attorney general as subversive. The committee contends its membership is on an individual basis and, although it says it has made no background checks, assumes many members have no such affiliation.

The committee estimated yesterday's crowd at between 10,000 to 13,000, most of them from out of town. Deputy Chief Police Inspector George Wallrodt said an actual count of the marchers came to 6,832—the biggest crowd of its kind he said he had ever seen here.

Reds May Grab Korea Through Infiltration; Tough Problem

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's not a happy thought but, despite all this country has spent in lives and money to save South Korea from the Communists, they may in the end take it over.

Not necessarily by attack from without. They tried that and failed. But by a coup from within. That wouldn't be soon. But the Communists take the long view. A few years more or less don't matter. They can wait.

To them an obstacle is like a stone in a river. If they can't dislodge it by a hard push, they flow around it and eat away at it.

When they tried their hard push on South Korea no doubt they thought they could overwhelm it by the sudden fierceness of their attack before the United States or the United Nations could act to stop them.

Expert Infiltration

Since they made a mistake, and paid heavily for it in lives, material and effort, they may not try the same tactics again once a truce is reached. Why should they, if they can get what they want without firing a shot?

One obvious way would be infiltration not only among South Korean citizens but in the government itself until suddenly the Communist clique felt strong enough to seize power, as happened in Czechoslovakia.

That couldn't happen in Korea so long as U. S. troops stay there. But they won't be there forever. They'll stay while the truce lasts. They'll leave if the U. S. and China reach agreement on withdrawing their forces from North and South Korea.

Mood May Change

And it couldn't happen so long as stubborn old Syngman Rhee is President and continues to run the country with his usual iron hand. But he won't live forever.

The mood of Rhee's successors and of the South Korean people themselves may not always remain so fiercely anti-Communist as now. Under severe conditions—like a bad depression—no one could predict what the South Koreans or anyone else might do.

If a peace settlement leaves Korea divided into a southern republic and a northern Communist puppet regime, South Korea, once American troops were withdrawn, would be under unique and tremendous Communist pressure.

It would be surrounded on all sides—except where it borders the Pacific—by communism, in China and North Korea.

Big Problem A Long Time

This is a gloomy picture. It may not turn out this way at all. But it is a possibility and, because it is, the U. S. will have to think about South Korea for years to come.

Thinking about it won't be enough. A simple military alliance between the U. S. and South Korea won't be enough because a promise to help the small republic in case of attack is no barrier, by itself, against Communist infiltration.

For that reason this country may have to forge other links with the South Koreans, such as prolonged aid. Even that is no guarantee that the South Koreans will always produce the kind of government this country wants.

Lose Grounds In Italy

The U. S. has poured billions into Italy, to rehabilitate it and keep it away from the Communists, but in the recent elections there the pro-American Premier Alcide de Gasperi barely squeaked through to victory.

The Italian people so divided their votes, ranging all the way from the Communists and Socialists to the Monarchists, that the net result was to weaken De Gasperi.

YOUTHFUL CURIOSTIY

SOUTHINGTON, Conn. (AP) — The fellow who turned in the false alarm that brought fire engines speeding to a hospital here escaped arrest and prosecution.

The culprit was a year-and-a half-old patient whose crib had been moved into a hospital hallway. It stood under a fire alarm box which the infant occupant was just tall enough to reach.

Yanks Take Doubleheader From Tribe For 18 Straight Wins; Braves Return To National Lead

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sportswriter

Unless Al Lopez is an incurable optimist who wears rose-colored glasses even in the dark, he could do worse than give his Cleveland Indians a little talk today—something like this:

"We've tried everything to beat those Yanks, but whatever we do, they manage to go us one better. When we streak, they put together a better streak When we have the pitching, they manage to set the big blow to beat us. When we have the hitting, they outslug us. Let's concentrate on nailing down second place this year and give it another whirl in 1954."

Until a week ago, Lopez was still talking pennant. At least the Indians were in hailing distance of the Yankees at that time. But the clean sweep of the four-game series that ended with a double conquest, 6-2 and 3-0, for the Yanks yesterday, just about knocked the breath and hope out of the Tribe.

18 In A Row

Casey Stengel and his swashbuckling crew now are 10½ games ahead of the Indians with the season almost half over. The Yanks have won 18 games in a row, which is the third longest winning streak in American League history.

Yesterday Yank catcher Yogi Berra actually knocked in enough runs to win each game. In the opener, he hit a home run with two on off Bob Lemon in the eighth with his team behind, 2-1. Then in the second game, he clouted a triple in the fourth with two more mates on.

Lemon was the loser of the first, and Mike Garcia, who permitted only seven hits, was the victim in the nightcap. Bob Kuzava won the first for the Yanks and Vic Raschi tossed the shutout, yielding three hits.

15th Straight For Browns

The St. Louis Browns lost their 14th straight, when they took a twin shellacking from the Philadelphia A's, 4-1 and 3-1.

The Chicago White Sox moved into third place with a pair of triumphs over the Red Sox, 6-0 and 1-0.

Billy Pierce tossed the first, giving up only two hits, while Sandy Consuegra threw the second.

In the other American League game, the Washington Senators slugged the hapless Detroit Tigers, 6-1, behind the strong-arm hurling of Frank Shea.

Braves Ahead Again

The see-saw battle for first place in the National League continued between the Milwaukee Braves and the Brooklyn Dodgers. The amazing Braves edged past the Brooks by winning a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3 and 8-0. Don Liddle threw a five-hitter for Charlie Grimm's lads in the first game and Bob Buhl came right back with a two-hit job in the afterpiece.

The Brooks knocked off the Chicago Cubs, 6-3, in the opener of their scheduled double-header with Billy Loes and Joe Black both working. But in the nightcap, they had to be content with a 6-all tie. The Dodgers were ahead, 6-2, in the ninth, but Ralph Kiner smashed a home run with the bases loaded and two out to tie the count. The game was called because of darkness.

Ken Raffensberger outpitched Robin Roberts as the Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, in the first game of a double-header. The Phils came back to win the second, though, 4-1, with Carl Drews going eight innings.

Harvey Haddix and Sal Maglie hooked up in another brilliant pitching duel, with the former hurling the St. Louis Cardinals to a 1-0 triumph in the first game of a twin bill. The Cards also won the nightcap, 9-4, behind Vinegar Bend Mizell.

VIRGINIA MAY JOIN ACC GROUP

RALEIGH (AP) — The Atlantic Coast Conference, a seven-team "playing conference," was organized here yesterday with indications that Virginia would be admitted to membership well in advance of the next meeting, set for Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 7-8.

J. T. Penney, University of South Carolina faculty chairman of athletics, elected president of the group, had only a repeated "no comment" when asked after the closed meeting if Virginia would come into the league.

However, it was learned reliably that Gus Tebell, Virginia athletic director, had been expected to appear at the meeting but had been detained at the last minute by his son's departure for military service in Korea. In his absence, there was little the conference could do regarding the eighth team.

West Virginia, which appeared to have an outside chance for a bid, apparently did not figure seriously in the final deliberation.

Primary matter to be discussed at the August meeting will be the adoption of a constitution and bylaws.

Each of the seven schools, Duke, North Carolina, Wake Forest, North Carolina State, Maryland, Clemson and South Carolina, was represented.

An English professor, among the early arrivals, hastily changed "clothes" to "coats."

Sweden has about one bicycle for every two people.

Mantle Is Favored In All-Star Voting

CHICAGO (AP) — Mickey Mantle, slugging young New York Yankee, was the top vote getter as the All-Star Baseball Poll got underway. Mantle was on almost half the ballots tabulated today, receiving 1,936 votes of 4,297 cast.

However, the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago White Sox were team leaders. Five players from each were on top of their respective positions.

For the Braves, it was first baseman Joe Adcock, third baseman Ed Mathews, shortstop Johnny Logan, center fielder Bill Bruton and catcher Del Crandall. Leading White Sox players were first baseman Ferris Fain, second baseman Nelson Fox, shortstop Chico Carrasquel, left fielder Minnie Minoso and right fielder Sam Mele.

The vote, handled by newspapers throughout the country, will determine the starting lineups (excluding pitchers) for the annual game July 14 in Cincinnati between stars of the American and National Leagues.

TEXAS, MICHIGAN AND LAFAYETTE STAY IN RACE

OMAHA (AP)—Texas and Michigan, the early favorites, and Lafayette remained in contention today for the National Collegiate Athletic Association Baseball Championship.

Each has won three and lost one in the double elimination tournament.

Texas and Lafayette tangle at 9:30 p. m. (EST) today for the right to play Michigan in the final game tomorrow night. Michigan rated its bye to the finals by virtue of its unbeaten status up to yesterday's games.

Boston Loses In 11

Boston College went out of the running in yesterday's play when little Lafayette outlasted the Eagles, 2-1 in 11 innings.

Texas stayed in the tournament by whipping Michigan, 6-4, in the night game. The night before, Michigan had socked the Longhorns, 12-5.

Roger Gordon bested Edward de Lorenzo in a battle of durable Boston College contest.

Both hurlers went the 11-inning route in hot, humid weather. Sophomore Gorden allowed six hits, Junior de Lorenzo 11. None was for extra bases.

A single by Charles Eyer gave Lafayette its winning run. The hit brought in Ray Hunt from second base.

Lafayette had taken the lead in the second inning. Boston tied it up in the seventh.

TWO VETS AND SOPHOMORE TOP TRACK ENTRIES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two veterans and a Temple University sophomore today lead the Middle Atlantic contingent preparing for the National AAU track and field championships at Dayton, O., June 26-27.

The three were the only double winners Saturday in the rain-drenched, 41st annual Middle Atlantic AAU qualification test for Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Northern Delaware.

Dick Lyster, a former Temple IC4A champion, set his third meet record in the qualifying test when he raised the high jump standard to six feet five and one half inches — a quarter inch better than the old mark he set in 1949. Lyster also won the broad jump.

Wins Hurdles Events

Santee Ruffin, 21-year-old Temple University sophomore, won his first outdoor title as he dominated both hurdles events.

Joe Walker, LaSalle College junior, took the 220 yard dash in 21.3 seconds—only a tenth of a second above the record he set two years ago. Walker also won the 440.

Other first place winners were Luther Burdelle, Philadelphia, mile; Frank Keiser, Philadelphia, two-mile walk; Imantz Metzarauts, Philadelphia, hammer throw; Albert Hanrley, Wyomissing, javelin; Joseph McLaughlin, Philadelphia, shot put; Charles Blockson, Norristown, discus; Dick Hart, Philadelphia, three-mile run, and Jerry Barr, Philadelphia, 880 yard run.

Shannahan Catholic Club of Philadelphia, second place winner for the past three years, took the team title.

Michigan State's first regular Big Ten football game at home will be played against Indiana, Oct. 17.

NATIVE DANCER WINS BELMONT IN GREAT RACE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you were one of those who questioned Native Dancer's greatness after his head defeat in the Kentucky Derby and neck victory in the Preakness, just forget you ever had any such ideas.

The long-striding steel grey from Alfred Vanderbilt's stable is every inch a champion — probably as great as we have seen come down the pike in recent years. And that includes such top performers as Citation, Count Fleet and Whirlaway.

The Dancer surely removed himself from the doubters' lists Saturday when he came from off the pace to defeat Jim Norris' Jamie K by a neck in the mile and one-half of the Belmont Stakes. That was the identical margin by which he beat the same horse in the Preakness.

There was just one difference in the two races. In the Preakness, Native Dancer was in front at the head of the stretch and staved off Jamie K's bid. In the Belmont, Jamie K showed the way as the field made the turn for the final quarter-mile and this time it was the Dancer that struck from behind.

Running a close second was Marshall Teague of Daytona Beach, Fla., 1952 AAA stock car champion. Taking third was Frank Mundy, of Atlanta, Ga.

Harney pushed Emmitsburg into the cellar with a 5-3 victory at Emmitsburg.

Wet grounds resulted in postponement of the Bonneauville-Hunterstown and Taneytown-Bendersville games. It was announced Taneytown will play at Bendersville June 23.

Greenmount was forced to stage an uphill battle all the way to down Brushtown, tying the count at 10-10 with three runs in the last of the ninth. In the 10th frame Brushtown again took the lead with a run but in their final time at bat Greenmount pulled the game from the fire. Bream and R. Fiscle singled. After Brennan went out, Kennell singled Bream home with the tying run. J. Fiscle fanned but McKendrick singled to send R. Fiscle home with the winning tally.

Bobby Miller, Greenmount catcher, was forced out of action in the first inning when he dislocated his left knee while sliding.

125 GOLFERS IN HERSHEY OPEN

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Some 125 golfers were ready today to compete for $2,300 in prize money in the 37th annual Pennsylvania Open at the Hershey Country Club.

The 36-hole competition will get under way at 7:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow with an afternoon round slated to begin at 11:30 (EST). In case of a tie a playoff will be held Wednesday morning

The course record of 65 is held jointly by Henry G. Picard, former pro at the club, Joe Turnesa and Jimmy Hines. Par for the course is 73. Picard set the mark in 1937 in winning the Hershey.

Included in the field of professional entries are Lew Worsham, former National Open champion; Johnny Bulla of the Westmoreland Country Club, Pittsburgh; George Fazio of the Pine Valley Club, Clementon, N. J., and Felix Serafin of the Fox Hills Country Club, Wilkes-Barre, who won the Hershey Open in 1939, nosing out Ben Hogan and Jimmy Hines by two strokes.

Joe McCarthy is the only manager to have won pennants in both major leagues. He piloted the Chicago Cubs to the flag in 1929 and the New York Yankees to the top on eight occasions.

EXPERTS CALL HOGAN BEST IN AMERICAN GOLF

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP) — Ben Hogan's fourth victory in the United States Open Golf Championship has revived the controversy whether lithe little Ben or somewhat bigger Bobby Jones is the best golfer America ever has produced.

Gene Sarazen, who probably is in the best position to judge, unhesitatingly picks Hogan. Gene was one of the game's kingpins when Bobby was at his peak and he's still playing good golf against Ben and the new crop of tournament stars.

Bobby Cruickshank, who lost to Jones in the 1923 Open championship playoff—the first of the four Bob won—stood in the Oakmont locker room the other day, nodded in Hogan's direction and said:

"This young man is the greatest." He didn't even mention Jones, going back to some of the great Scottish players for comparisons.

But it would be interesting to know what Jones would have done if he had continued to play tournament golf until he was 40. Bob won his first Open championship when he was 21. He retired at 28, sated with victories and wearied from the constant nervous strain of competition.

Hogan didn't win his first Open title until he was 35 years old and now, at 40, he is just starting out to earn world-wide recognition. He'll play in the British Open at Carnoustie next month for the first time.

Browns And White Sox Trade Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The deadline on trading in the major leagues arrives at midnight tonight with most of the clubs looking for help but not willing to give up what the other fellow wants.

Two deals were made over the week end but chances of any more today appeared remote.

On Saturday the St. Louis Browns sent pitcher Virgil Trucks and veteran infielder Bob Elliott to the Chicago White Sox and received in return, pitcher Lou Kretlow, catcher Darrell Johnson and an undisclosed sum of money.

And then yesterday the Cardinals and the Pirates got together with St. Louis trading outfielder Hal Rice for reserve infielder Pete Castiglione.

CLEVELAND GETS HOUTTEMAN IN 8-PLAYER SWAP

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today made a four-for-four player swap with the Detroit Tigers, giving up shortstop Ray Boone and three pitchers for pitchers Art Houtteman and Bill Wight, catcher Joe Ginsberg and second baseman Owen Friend.

Except for Bob Feller and Jim Hegan, Gromek, a 33-year-old right-hander, had been with the Indians longer than anyone on the squad. He came to Cleveland in 1941. This year he had pitched only 11 innings and had a 1-1 record. His career total was 77-66, and, with his 14-8 record against the Yankees, was the only Tribe hurler to pitch in the blue ink against the world champs.

Key man in the deal for the Indians was Houtteman who won 19 games for the Tigers in 1950 then missed the 1951 season when he was in the Army. In 1952, when his child was killed in an automobile accident during the spring, he won only eight.

Aber, a promising young Clevelander who will be 26 next month, has pitched only six innings for Cleveland this year and has a 1-1 record.

The three pitchers the Indians sent to the last-place Tigers in what the Tribe's front office called "a straight player trade" were veteran Steve Gromek, rookie southpaw Al Aber and Dick Weik, a right-hander off military leave who has not pitched this season because of a sore arm.

Houtteman, 26-year-old right-hander, has a 2-6 record this year and a lifetime mark of 53-63. Southpaw Wight, who is 31, is 0-3 this year and has a career record of 51-71.

Boone, with Cleveland since 1948, currently was hitting .241 but had been benched for George Strickland.

The deal, on the final day of the player-trade deadline, followed Cleveland's loss of four straight games here to the league-leading New York Yankees.

Union Bridge's unbeaten league leaders in the Pen-Mar Baseball League edged Cashtown 2-1 in a fine pitcher's battle between "Skip" Fiscel of Cashtown and A. Gilbert, Union Bridge, Sunday afternoon at Cashtown.

Cashtown secured five hits while the Marylanders poled six. Poor fielding in the late innings and missed signals with runners on base proved costly to the losers.

Blue Rige Summit pounded over three runs in the last of the final inning to nip Littlestown 8-7. Mehring homered for Littlestown while McCleaf also hit for the circuit for Blue Ridge.

The second-place Emmitsburg team routed New Windsor 7-1 on the latter's field. It was the seventh straight reverse for the winless New Windsor team.

New Oxford came up with three-run innings in the seventh and eighth to down Thurmont 7-5 at New Oxford. Joe Bevenour pitched for the winners while Pittinger and Zarrill divided the hurling for Thurmont.

2 YOUNG DRIVERS DIE IN WRECKAGE OF RACING CARS

READING, Pa. (AP)—As 4,000 spectators watched in horror, two youthful racing drivers burned to death in the fiery wreckage of their stock cars at the Reading Fairgrounds yesterday.

Ten cars collided. The smashup also sent David Haldeman of Bechtelsville, Pa., to Community General Hospital with a possible fractured skull and other injuries.

Killed were George Lloyd, 27, and Robert Rolland, 26, both of Reading.

The accident occurred on the fourth lap of the 50-lap feature of the second annual Spring Stock Car Championships.

Were Brothers-in-law

Lloyd and Rolland were brothers-in-law. They were piloting rival cars in a race sponsored by the All-Star Stock Racing Club.

The 31 cars entered in the race were jockeying for position when Haldeman's machine swerved toward the muddy infield. He wrenched the wheel and the car bounced off a guard rail, careened back across the dirt track and plowed into the outside guard rail in the backstretch.

The cars piled up as they swerved to avoid the accident. Rolland, well back in the field, swung past the clustered cars, skidded and sliced through the inside guard rail, ramming into the base of a 50-foot light standard.

Seconds later, Lloyd's racer plowed into Rolland's car and the two vehicles erupted into flames, trapping both drivers.

HURLER SCORES WINNING RUN; HURLS SHUTOUT

By The Associated Press

It was only a bunt, but Jim Barnhardt's bat and his pitching arm kept the Reading Indians a game and a half out in front in the Eastern League.

Barnhardt shut out the Scranton Miners with two hits yesterday and scored the only run of the game on Joe Altobelli's single. A well-placed bunt had put the pitcher on base.

Bill Sherman of the Wilkes-Barre Barons also hung up a two-hitter and Jim Miller of the Williamsport Athletics won with a three-hitter as the clubs split a the opener at Williamsport, 7-0, and lost the second game, 3-0.

The Albany Senators capitalized on three Elmira errors in downing the Pioneers, 4-2. The second-place Binghamtom Triplets broke a four game losing streak by edging the Schenectady Blue Jays, 2-1.

Blast Three Homers

The Barons scored all their runs in the first game on homers. Dick Camulli connected with two aboard in the second inning. Bill Boyce with one runner on in the second, and manager Danny Litwhiler with one on in the seventh.

The Senators and Pioneers were tied, 2-2, until the ninth inning at Albany, when errors set the stage for two runs. They gave Joe Tully his sixth victory, and Ernie Nichols suffered the loss. Each issued six hits.

Knuckleballer Wally Burnette set the Jays down with the same number at Schenectady. Charley Frey of the Trips walloped a home run off Charley Bowers, who lost his first start since he joined Schenectady from Baltimore of the International League.

PITCHING — Vic Raschi, New York Yankees, held the Cleveland Indians to three hits as the Yanks won the second game of a double-header, 3-0. They also won the opener, 6-2.

BATTING — Yogi Berra, New York Yankees, hit a home run with two on in the first game and a triple with two on in the second game, to knock in more runs than the Yanks needed to win the two games.

Yanks Take Doubleheader From Tribe For 18 Straight Wins; Braves Return To National Lead

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sportswriter

Unless Al Lopez is an incurable optimist who wears rose-colored glasses even in the dark, he could do worse than give his Cleveland Indians a little talk today—something like this:

"We've tried everything to beat those Yanks, but whatever we do, they manage to go us one better. When we streak, they put together a better streak When we have the pitching, they manage to set the big blow to beat us. When we have the hitting, they outslug us. Let's concentrate on nailing down second place this year and give it another whirl in 1954."

Until a week ago, Lopez was still talking pennant. At least the Indians were in hailing distance of the Yankees at that time. But the clean sweep of the four-game series that ended with a double conquest, 6-2 and 3-0, for the Yanks yesterday, just about knocked the breath and hope out of the Tribe.

18 In A Row

Casey Stengel and his swashbuckling crew now are 10½ games ahead of the Indians with the season almost half over. The Yanks have won 18 games in a row, which is the third longest winning streak in American League history.

Yesterday Yank catcher Yogi Berra actually knocked in enough runs to win each game. In the opener, he hit a home run with two on off Bob Lemon in the eighth with his team behind, 2-1. Then in the second game, he clouted a triple in the fourth with two more mates on.

Lemon was the loser of the first, and Mike Garcia, who permitted only seven hits, was the victim in the nightcap. Bob Kuzava won the first for the Yanks and Vic Raschi tossed the shutout, yielding three hits.

14th Straight For Browns

The St. Louis Browns lost their 14th straight, when they took a twin shellacking from the Philadelphia A's, 4-1 and 3-1.

The Chicago White Sox moved into third place with a pair of triumphs over the Red Sox, 6-0 and 1-0.

Billy Pierce tossed the first, giving up only two hits, while Sandy Consuegra threw the second.

In the other American League game, the Washington Senators slugged the hapless Detroit Tigers, 6-1, behind the strong-arm hurling of Frank Shea.

Braves Ahead Again

The see-saw battle for first place in the National League continued between the Milwaukee Braves and the Brooklyn Dodgers. The amazing Braves edged past the Brooks by winning a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3 and 8-0. Don Liddle threw a five-hitter for Charlie Grimm's lads in the first game and Bob Buhl came right back with a two-hit job in the afterpiece.

The Brooks knocked off the Chicago Cubs, 6-3, in the opener of their scheduled double-header with Billy Loes and Joe Black both working. But in the nightcap, they had to be content with a 6-all tie. The Dodgers were ahead, 6-2, in the ninth, but Ralph Kiner smashed a home run with the bases loaded and two out to tie the count. The game was called because of darkness.

Ken Raffensberger outpitched Robin Roberts as the Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, in the first game of a double-header. The Phils came back to win the second, though, 4-1, with Carl Drews going eight innings.

Harvey Haddix and Sal Maglie hooked up in another brilliant pitching duel, with the former hurling the St. Louis Cardinals to a 1-0 triumph in the first game of a twin bill. The Cards also won the nightcap, 9-4, behind Vinegar Bend Mizell.

VIRGINIA MAY JOIN ACC GROUP

RALEIGH (AP) — The Atlantic Coast Conference, a seven-team "playing conference," was organized here yesterday with indications that Virginia would be admitted to membership well in advance of the next meeting, set for Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 7-8.

J. T. Penney, University of South Carolina faculty chairman of athletics, elected president of the group, had only a repeated "no comment" when asked after the closed meeting if Virginia would come into the league.

However, it was learned reliably that Gus Tebell, Virginia athletic director, had been expected to appear at the meeting but had been detained at the last minute by his son's departure for military service in Korea. In his absence, there was little the conference could do regarding the eighth team.

West Virginia, which appeared to have an outside chance for a bid, apparently did not figure seriously in the final deliberation.

Primary matter to be discussed at the August meeting will be the adoption of a constitution and by-laws.

Each of the seven schools, Duke, North Carolina, Wake Forest, North Carolina State, Maryland, Clemson and South Carolina, was represented.

Mantle Is Favored In All-Star Voting

CHICAGO (AP) — Mickey Mantle, slugging young New York Yankee, was the top vote getter as the All-Star Baseball Poll got underway. Mantle was on almost half the ballots tabulated today, receiving 1,936 votes of 4,297 cast.

However, the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago White Sox were team leaders. Five players from each were on top of their respective positions.

For the Braves, it was first baseman Joe Adcock, third baseman Ed Mathews, shortstop Johnny Logan, center fielder Bill Bruton and catcher Del Crandall. Leading White Sox players were first baseman Ferris Fain, second baseman Nelson Fox, shortstop Chico Carrasquel, left fielder Minnie Minoso and right fielder Sam Mele.

The vote, handled by newspapers throughout the country, will determine the starting lineups (excluding pitchers) for the annual game July 14 in Cincinnati between stars of the American and National Leagues.

TEXAS, MICHIGAN AND LAFAYETTE STAY IN RACE

OMAHA (AP)—Texas and Michigan, the early favorites, and Lafayette remained in contention today for the National Collegiate Athletic Association Baseball Championship.

Each has won three and lost one in the double elimination tournament.

Texas and Lafayette tangle at 9:30 p. m. (EST) today for the right to play Michigan in the final game tomorrow night. Michigan rated its bye to the finals by virtue of its unbeaten status up to yesterday's games.

Boston Loses In 11

Boston College went out of the running in yesterday's play when little Lafayette outlasted the Eagles, 2-1 in 11 innings.

Texas stayed in the tournament by whipping Michigan, 6-4, in the night game. The night before, Michigan had socked the Longhorns, 12-5.

Roger Gordon bested Edward de Lorenzo in a battle of durable Boston College contest.

Both hurlers went the 11-inning route in hot, humid weather. Sophomore Gorden allowed six hits, Junior de Lorenzo 11. None was for extra bases.

A single by Charles Eyer gave Lafayette its winning run. The hit brought in Ray Hunt from second base.

Lafayette had taken the lead in the second inning. Boston tied it up in the seventh.

TWO VETS AND SOPHOMORE TOP TRACK ENTRIES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two veterans and a Temple University sophomore today lead the Middle Atlantic contingent preparing for the National AAU track and field championships at Dayton, O., June 26-27.

The three were the only double winners Saturday in the rain-drenched 41st annual Middle Atlantic AAU qualification test for Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Northern Delaware.

Dick Lyster, a former Temple IC4A champion, set his third meet record in the qualifying test when he raised the high jump standard to six feet five and one half inches — a quarter inch better than the old mark he set in 1949. Lyster also won the broad jump.

Wins Hurdles Events

Santee Ruffin, 21-year-old Temple University sophomore, won his first outdoor title as he dominated both hurdles events.

Joe Walker, LaSalle College junior, took the 220 yard dash in 21.3 seconds—only a tenth of a second above the record he set two years ago. Walker also won the 440.

Other first place winners were Luther Burdelle, Philadelphia, mile; Frank Keiser, Philadelphia, two-mile walk; Imantz Metzarauts, Philadelphia, hammer throw; Albert Hanrley, Wyomissing, javelin; Joseph McLaughlin, Philadelphia, shot put; Charles Blockson, Norristown, discus; Dick Hart, Philadelphia, three-mile run, and Jerry Barr, Philadelphia, 880 yard run.

Shannahan Catholic Club of Philadelphia, second place winner for the past three years, took the team title.

Michigan State's first regular Big Ten football game at home will be played against Indiana, Oct. 17.

NATIVE DANCER WINS BELMONT IN GREAT RACE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you were one of those who questioned Native Dancer's greatness after his head defeat in the Kentucky Derby and neck victory in the Preakness, just forget you ever had any such ideas.

The long-striding steel grey from Alfred Vanderbilt's stable is every inch a champion — probably as great as we have seen come down the pike in recent years. And that includes such top performers as Citation, Count Fleet and Whirlaway.

The Dancer surely removed himself from the doubters' lists Saturday when he came from off the pace to defeat Jim Norris' Jamie K by a neck in the mile and one-half of the Belmont Stakes. That was the identical margin by which he beat the same horse in the Preakness.

There was just one difference in the two races. In the Preakness, Native Dancer was in front at the head of the stretch and staved off Jamie K's bid. In the Belmont, Jamie K showed the way as the field made the turn for the final quarter-mile and this time it was the Dancer that struck from behind.

Running a close second was Marshall Teague of Daytona Beach, Fla., 1952 AAA stock car champion. Taking third was Frank Mundy, of Atlanta, Ga.

Harney pushed Emmitsburg into the cellar with a 5-3 victory at Emmitsburg.

Wet grounds resulted in postponement of the Bonneauville-Hunterstown and Taneytown-Bendersville games. It was announced Taneytown will play at Bendersville June 23.

Greenmount was forced to stage an uphill battle all the way to down Brushtown, tying the count at 10-10 with three runs in the last of the ninth. In the 10th frame Brushtown again took the lead with a run but in their final time at bat Greenmount pulled the game from the fire. Bream and R. Fiscle singled. After Brennan went out, Kennell singled Bream home with the tying run. J. Fiscle fanned but McKendrick singled to send R. Fiscle home with the winning tally.

Bobby Miller, Greenmount catcher, was forced out of action in the first inning when he dislocated his left knee while sliding.

125 GOLFERS IN HERSHEY OPEN

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Some 125 golfers were ready today to compete for $2,300 in prize money in the 37th annual Pennsylvania Open at the Hershey Country Club.

The 36-hole competition will get under way at 7:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow with an afternoon round slated to begin at 11:30 (EST). In case of a tie a playoff will be held Wednesday morning.

The course record of 65 is held jointly by Henry G. Picard, former pro at the club, Joe Turnesa and Jimmy Hines. Par for the course is 73. Picard set the mark in 1937 in winning the Hershey

Included in the field of professional entries are Lew Worsham, former National Open champion; Johnny Bulla of the Westmoreland Country Club, Pittsburgh; George Fazio of the Pine Valley Club, Clementon, N. J., and Felix Serafin of the Fox Hills Country Club, Wilkes-Barre, who won the Hershey Open in 1939, nosing out Ben Hogan and Jimmy Hines by two strokes.

Joe McCarthy is the only manager to have won pennants in both major leagues. He piloted the Chicago Cubs to the flag in 1929 and the New York Yankees to the top on eight occasions.

EXPERTS CALL HOGAN BEST IN AMERICAN GOLF

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP) — Ben Hogan's fourth victory in the United States Open Golf Championship has revived the controversy whether lithe little Ben or somewhat bigger Bobby Jones is the best golfer America ever has produced.

Gene Sarazen, who probably is in the best position to judge, unhesitatingly picks Hogan. Gene was one of the game's kingpins when Bobby was at his peak and he's still playing good golf against Ben and the new crop of tournament stars.

Bobby Cruickshank, who lost to Jones in the 1923 Open championship playoff—the first of the four Bob won—stood in the Oakmont locker room the other day, nodded in Hogan's direction and said: "This young man is the greatest." He didn't even mention Jones, going back to some of the great Scottish players for comparisons.

But it would be interesting to know what Jones would have done if he had continued to play tournament golf until he was 40. Bob won his first Open championship when he was 21. He retired at 28, sated with victories and wearied from the constant nervous strain of competition.

Hogan didn't win his first Open title until he was 35 years old and now, at 40, he is just starting out to earn world-wide recognition. He'll play in the British Open at Carnoustie next month for the first time.

Browns And White Sox Trade Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The deadline on trading in the major leagues arrives at midnight tonight with most of the clubs looking for help but not willing to give up what the other fellow wants.

Two deals were made over the week end but chances of any more today appeared remote.

On Saturday the St. Louis Browns sent pitcher Virgil Trucks and veteran infielder Bob Elliott to the Chicago White Sox and received in return, pitcher Lou Kretlow, catcher Darrell Johnson and an undisclosed sum of money.

And then yesterday the Cardinals and the Pirates got together with St. Louis trading outfielder Hal Rice for reserve infielder Pete Castiglione.

CLEVELAND GETS HOUTTEMAN IN 8 - PLAYER SWAP

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today made a four-for-four player swap with the Detroit Tigers, giving up shortstop Ray Boone and three pitchers for pitchers Art Houtteman and Bill Wight, catcher Joe Ginsberg and second baseman Owen Friend.

Except for Bob Feller and Jim Hegan, Gromek, a 33-year-old right-hander, had been with the Indians longer than anyone on the squad. He came to Cleveland in 1941. This year he had pitched only 11 innings and had a 1-1 record. His career total was 77-66, and, with his 14-8 record against the Yankees, was the only Tribe hurler to pitch in the blue ink against the world champs.

Key man in the deal for the Indians was Houtteman who won 19 games for the Tigers in 1950 then missed the 1951 season when he was in the Army. In 1952, when his child was killed in an automobile accident during the spring, he won only eight.

Aber, a promising young Clevelander who will be 26 next month, has pitched only six innings for Cleveland this year and has a 1-1 record.

The three pitchers the Indians sent to the last-place Tigers in what the Tribe's front office called "a straight player trade" were veteran Steve Gromek, rookie southpaw Al Aber and Dick Weik, a right-hander off military leave who has not pitched this season because of a sore arm.

Houtteman, 26-year-old right-hander, has a 2-6 record this year and a lifetime mark of 53-63. Southpaw Wight, who is 31, is 0-3 this year and has a career record of 51-71.

Boone, with Cleveland since 1948, currently was hitting .241 but had been benched for George Strickland.

The deal, on the final day of the player-trade deadline, followed Cleveland's loss of four straight games here to the league-leading New York Yankees.

Hay Dixon, newest umpire in the National League, is an auto parts salesman during the off-season.

Union Bridge's unbeaten league leaders in the Pen-Mar Baseball League edged Cashtown 2-1 in a fine pitcher's battle between "Skip" Fiscel of Cashtown and A. Gilbert, Union Bridge, Sunday afternoon at Cashtown.

Cashtown secured five hits while the Marylanders poled six. Poor fielding in the late innings and missed signals with runners on base proved costly to the losers.

Blue Rige Summit pounded over three runs in the last of the final inning to nip Littlestown 8-7. Mehring homered for Littlestown while McCleaf also hit for the circuit for Blue Ridge.

The second-place Emmitsburg team routed New Windsor 7-1 on the latter's field. It was the seventh straight reverse for the winless New Windsor team.

New Oxford came up with three-run innings in the seventh and eighth to down Thurmont 7-5 at New Oxford. Joe Bevenour pitched for the winners while Pittinger and Zarrill divided the hurling for Thurmont.

2 YOUNG DRIVERS DIE IN WRECKAGE OF RACING CARS

READING, Pa. (AP)—As 4,000 spectators watched in horror, two youthful racing drivers burned to death in the fiery wreckage of their stock cars at the Reading Fairgrounds yesterday.

Ten cars collided. The smashup also sent David Haldeman of Bechtelsville, Pa., to Community General Hospital with a possible fractured skull and other injuries.

Killed were George Lloyd, 27, and Robert Rolland, 26, both of Reading.

The accident occurred on the fourth lap of the 50-lap feature of the second annual Spring Stock Car Championships.

Were Brothers-in-law

Lloyd and Rolland were brothers-in-law. They were piloting rival cars in a race sponsored by the All-Star Stock Racing Club.

The 31 cars entered in the race were jockeying for position when Haldeman's machine swerved toward the muddy infield. He wrenched the wheel and the car bounced off a guard rail, careened back across the dirt track and plowed into the outside guard rail in the backstretch.

The cars piled up as they swerved to avoid the accident. Rolland, well back in the field, swung past the clustered cars, skidded and sliced through the inside guard rail, ramming into the base of a 50-foot light standard.

Seconds later, Lloyd's racer plowed into Rolland's car and the two vehicles erupted into flames, trapping both drivers.

HURLER SCORES WINNING RUN; HURLS SHUTOUT

By The Associated Press

It was only a bunt, but Jim Barnhardt's bat and his pitching arm kept the Reading Indians a game and a half out in front in the Eastern League.

Barnhardt shut out the Scranton Miners with two hits yesterday and scored the only run of the game on Joe Altobelli's single. A well-placed bunt had put the pitcher on base.

Bill Sherman of the Wilkes-Barre Barons also hung up a two-hitter and Jim Miller of the Williamsport Athletics won with a three-hitter as the clubs split a the opener at Williamsport, 7-0, and lost the second game, 3-0.

The Albany Senators capitalized on three Elmira errors in downing the Pioneers, 4-2. The second-place Binghamtom Triplets broke a four game losing streak by edging the Schenectady Blue Jays, 2-1.

Blast Three Homers

The Barons scored all their runs in the first game on homers. Dick Camilli connected with two aboard in the second inning, Bill Boyce with one runner on in the second, and manager Danny Litwhiler with one on in the seventh.

The Senators and Pioneers were tied, 2-2, until the ninth inning at Albany, when errors set the stage for two runs. They gave Joe Tully his sixth victory, and Ernie Nichols suffered the loss. Each issued six hits.

Knuckleballer Wally Burnette set the Jays down with the same number at Schenectady. Charley Frey of the Trips walloped a home run off Charley Bowers, who lost his first start since he joined Schenectady from Baltimore of the International League.

Lefty Rube Stohs was the loser at Reading.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

PITCHING — Vic Raschi, New York Yankees, held the Cleveland Indians to three hits as the Yanks won the second game of a double-header, 3-0. They also won the opener, 6-2.

BATTING — Yogi Berra, New York Yankees, hit a home run with two on in the first game and a triple with two on in the second game, to knock in more runs than the Yanks needed to win the two games.

Garden And Building News

The Youngstown: Distinctive, Practical, Modern

Rooms	Seven
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Eight
Cubage	30,600 ft.
Dimensions	52' x 32'

The small entry hall does not rob the house proper of any of its precious living space, yet it is of sufficient size to have a clothes closet in its left wall. This closet is large enough to hold your family's stormy weather apparel as well as your guests' wraps

Charming Living Room

Opening directly off the entry hall, the living room measures 19' x 13'6". A very pleasant room designed to serve as the gathering spot for family and friends, the living room receives plenty of light through the picture window in the front wall. Flanked as it is by narrow casement windows, this picture window is the most charming decorative feature of the living room; it also contributes greatly to the attractive overall appearance of the house exterior.

Located against the right wall of the room is the fireplace which also serves both a practical and a decorative purpose. You'll welcome the extra storage space offered by the all purpose closet located just beyond the fireplace. Long unbroken areas along both the left and back walls of the room make attractive arrangement of large furniture pieces an easy task.

Connected directly to the living room, by a door in the back wall, the dining room is 11' x 10'6" in dimensions. Most outstanding and attractive feature of this room is the four windowed bay in the back wall. From a decorative standpoint, the four windowed bay really "makes" this room, lifts it out of the ordinary class. From a practical standpoint the many windows provide plenty of good light, sunshine and ventilation. Be sure to place your dining room set where you'll reap the greatest of practical and decorative benefits from this unusual window grouping.

Built In Cabinet

The large china closet, built into the front wall of the room, will be a convenient and welcome storage spot for your china and glassware. Have drawers in the lower section of the closet and you can keep your fresh table linen there. Such built-in cabinets as this one in the dining room of "The Youngstown" owe their ever growing popularity not only to the fact that they are are so convenient but also to the fact that they save you the money you would spend on buying regular china cabinets, etc.

Serving meals in the dining room will present no problem in this home for the kitchen is directly connected to the dining room by a door in the side wall. Planned to make meal preparation, dish washing, etc as pleasant and as easy as possible, this 13' x 10'6' kitchen has cabinets, counters and cupboards arranged in a U along the left, back and right walls of the room.

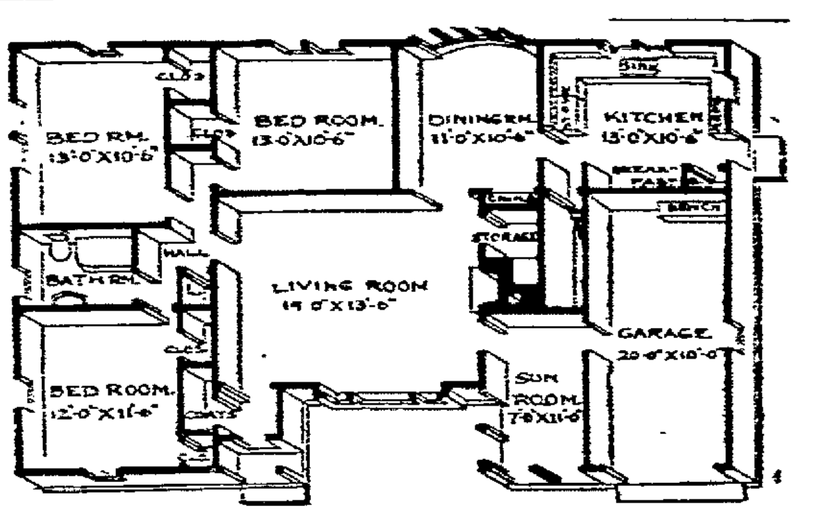
The stove is placed at the left end of the line of working counters, while the refrigerator is at the right end. Under the double windows in the back wall of the room and in the center of the line of working counters is the selected location for the sink. Thus all the major pieces of kitchen equipment are but a few steps from each other.

Against the front wall there's a small area set apart as the breakfast nook. You'll undoubtedly use this little nook for serving family lunches, after-school and between-meal snacks as well as at breakfast time. Placed at the right of the breakfast nook is the good sized broom closet that makes a convenient storage spot for all your cleaning tools and equipment.

Leading directly to the yard, the door in the right wall of the kitchen makes a convenient service entrance and also a handy door for the youngsters to use in their seemingly endless trips in and out of the house. Stairs to the cellar also lead down from the kitchen.

From the living room another door, also in the right wall, leads to the sun room or porch. Measuring 7' x 11', this area can be screened in, as in the illustration, or can be completely enclosed and used as another bedroom or guest room.

All three bedrooms are located in the left wing of "The Youngstown" and are connected by a central hallway leading from a door in the left wall of the living room.



Two windows in the back wall provide good light and ventilation for the 13' x 10'6" bedroom in back of the living room. This room also boasts a good sized clothes closet and if you choose to use this room for the young gentlemen in your family you'll find the right wall ideally suited to the installation of bunk beds.

Also measuring 13' x 10'6", the left back corner bedroom has one window in the back wall and two in the left wall. This room, too, has a good sized clothes closet. The all modern bath, containing both a tub and a shower, is conveniently placed between this bedroom and the front one. A linen closet, that opens on the connecting hallway, is located between these bedrooms, also.

Cross ventilation is guaranteed in the front bedroom with its one window in the front wall and another window in the left wall. Measuring 12' x 11'6, this room has two closets in the right wall of the room.

Things Of The Soil

FACTS ABOUT HOUSE FLIES

House flies, with their filth and disease-carrying dangers, are with us simply because civilized mankind is too lazy and negligent to exterminate the pests. The problem could be solved in a single year if we really wanted to solve it.

With the arrival of another season of warm weather and the perils house flies bring to human beings and fowls and animals, emphasis should, of course, turn first to prevention measures. After all, if flies are prevented from propagating, there will be no flies. On this point nine steps are stressed. They are:

1. Keep all livestock manure, particularly horse manure, in covered pits or haul it daily to distant parts of the farm and spread it on land where it is needed.

2. When manure must of necessity be left in the barnlot, pile it in compact heaps after strewing over it a half-and-half mixture of calcium cyanamid and acid phosphate at the rate of one pound to two bushels of manure, watering the fertilizing mixture into the materials.

3. Fit windows, doors and other openings of dwellings, barns, poultry and hog houses, and other structures in which animals and fowls are fed and housed with screens to bar flies. This is particularly important where human foods are exposed.

4 Do not invite flies and furnish them free meals by careless exposure of garbage — especially sweet foods and wastes. Keep all garbage tightly covered.

5. Clean and disinfect poultry houses and stables frequently in summer to eliminate breeding materials and attracting environments.

6. Apply powdered borax daily or at least every two days in outdoor toilets and over kitchen wastes that cannot be kept under cover. Lime is worthless in these roles. Do not apply borax on manures that are to be used for feeding plants.

7. Inspect drainage and sewer connections for leaks to attract flies beneath buildings.

8. Do not patronize grocers who are thoughless and careless enough to expose human foods to flies. And be certain to tell the offenders of your action because that will bring about remediaul measures.

9. Talk these prevention steps over with your neighbors and always have anti-fly plans under way and in operation in the neighborhood.

Direct combat is, of course, essential. It consists of at least five methods. They are:

1. Make liberal use of traps where flies congregate. There are several good fly traps on the market.

2 Use sticky paper indoors and out. It is easily made at home by a simple formula which the editor will furnish readers who send him a stamped, addressed envelope.

3. Where safety is possible for animals, birds and children, make use of poisons, such as three teaspoonsfuls of formalin in a pint of sweet milk or a pint of water in which honey or brown sugar is added.

4. Use DDT and other commercial fly poisons and sprays.

5 Make free use of swatters. Enlist neighborhood children at rates per 100 flies to remunerate them. It is often amazing how fast flies disappear when kiddies comprise the army, encouraged financially. Too, this makes the younger generation conscious of a problem we oldsters have seriously neglected.

Art Club Disrupted By Lack Of Models

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — The local art club has reluctantly decided to dry its paint brushes and put away its palettes and easels — local girls are too shy to pose for it in the nude.

"We've advertised and made personal approaches — offering of course the union rate of five shillings (70 cents) an hour," sadly complained Robert Huck, post office worker who was to have taught the 20 member class that includes civil servants and middle-aged housewives.

"But professional" models are impossible to get here, and all the girls I asked personally were horrified and said everyone would know them."

An alternative suggestion that the class should forget about real life and concentrate on still life subjects was turned down — the club members said they could do that sort of thing at home.

Enlarge Your Garden Area By Growing Plants In Air

Pole lima beans make fruitful and handsome garden background.

Vine crops, such as cucumbers, muskmelons, squash, and pole beans, both snaps and limas, are usually considered beyond the reach of the home gardener with limited space, because of the room these crops require.

By using the air rights of his garden, however, its effective area can be increased, and some of these luxury crops enjoyed on the same ground area. A picket fence 5 feet tall on the north, east and west sides of a 1,000 square foot area will add almost half as much again to its effective size.

European gardeners have long used garden walls for climbing crops; but in our hot summers walls would reflect too much heat. A picket fence allows air to pass through freely, cooling the plants and keeping them free from mildew.

All the vine crops are tender, and should not be sown until the ground has warmed up and all danger of frost is ended.

Cucumbers, melons and squash are all natural climbers. They are grown as such in greenhouses, but in commercial production outdoors are allowed to sprawl on the ground, because of the expense which supporting them would involve.

Any variety of cucumbers may be grown without providing extra support for the fruit, but the larger melons and squash would require this. Smaller melons and squash are easily supported by the vines.

Seed may be sown in rows about a foot from the fence. Soil should be enriched by spreading commercial plant food in a shallow trench a few inches away from the seed drill, using a pint of plant food for 25 feet of row. When the seeds come up start immediately to dust the seedling plants with lindane, to kill the cucumber beetle, which infests all three of these vine crops. Lindane is a new formulation, which does everything that D.D.T. will do, but is not harmful to the vine crops, while D.D.T. is under suspicion of stunting these plants when applied too freely.

Cucumber beetles concentrate in the growing end of the vine, and not only eat the new growth, but carry a disease which may destroy the vine just when it begins to bear.

To protect the vines the growing end must be dusted every few days so that new growth is covered, until the vine is two feet tall. Cords or wires must be stretched to support the cucumber, melon and squash vines until they are well developed and begin to cling to the fence pickets.

Snap and lima beans of vining varieties give a much heavier yield for the same space than the bush varieties, but take longer to bear.

In addition to the food yield, the leaves of the vine crops provide an attractive background, fully equal to a hedge or shrubbery border in decorative value, but without competing with other crops for nutriment, as shrubs always do.

63 Children Were Raised In Cottage

WEXFORD, Ireland (AP) — The tiny thatched cottage where Michael Fenelon fathered his 63 children is to be pulled down. Local authorities have ruled it unfit for habitation.

Michael married at 17. He had 25 children by his first wife, 18 by his second and 20 by the third. He died in 1909, aged 99.

More than 250 of Michael's descendants still live in Wexford. Others have settled in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Boston. Still more live in Australia and South Africa.

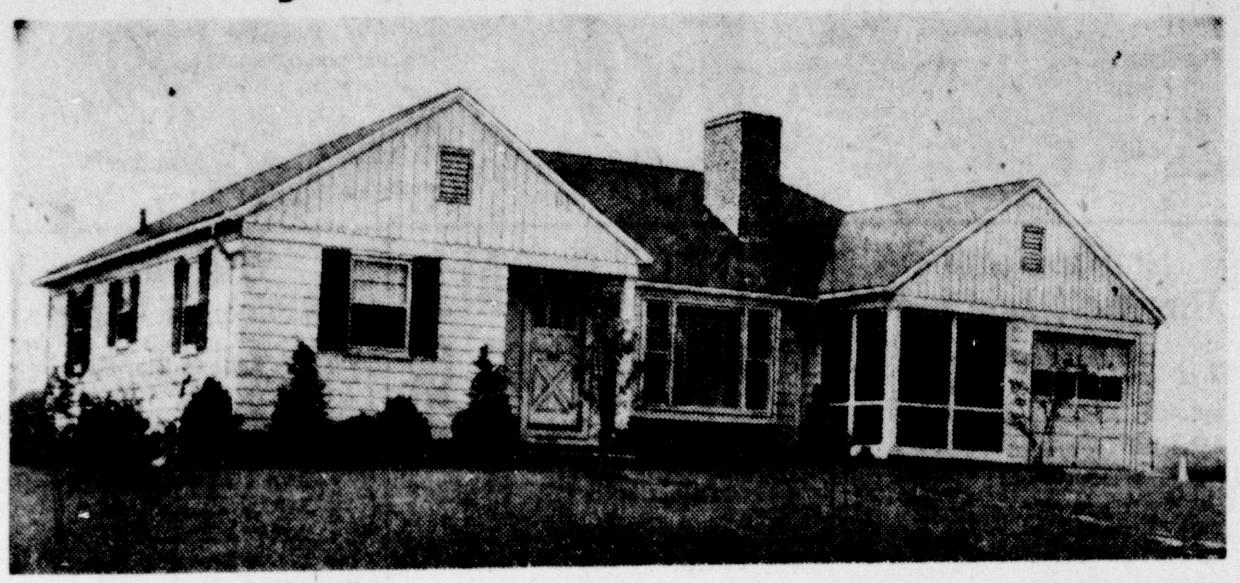
The Youngstown: Distinctive, Practical, Modern



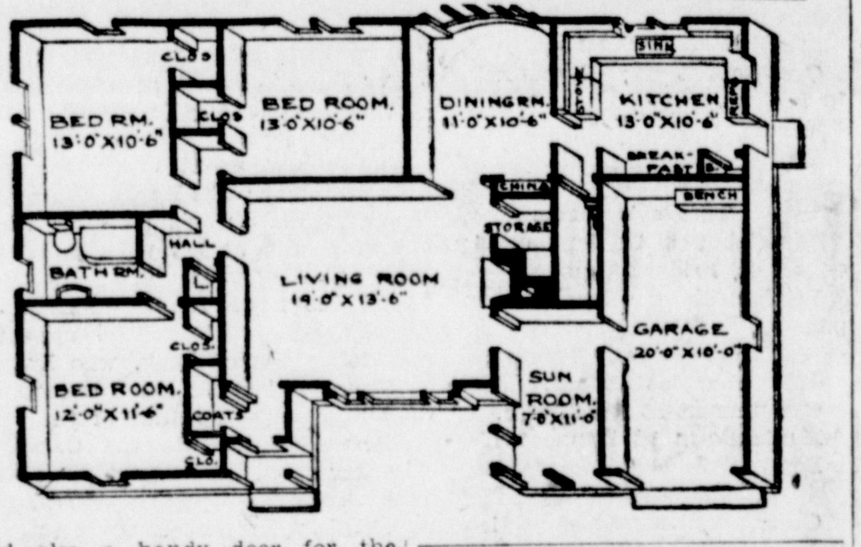
Rooms	Seven
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Eight
Cubage	30,600 ft.
Dimensions	52' x 32'

The small entry hall does not rob the house proper of any of its precious living space, yet it is of sufficient size to have a clothes closet in its left wall. This closet is large enough to hold your family's stormy weather apparel as well as your guests' wraps.

Charming Living Room

Opening directly off the entry hall, the living room measures 19' x 13'6". A very pleasant room designed to serve as the gathering spot for family and friends, the living room receives plenty of light through the picture window in the front wall. Flanked as it is by narrow casement windows, this picture window is the most charming decorative feature of the living room; it also contributes greatly to the attractive overall appearance of the house exterior.

Located against the right wall of the room is the fireplace which also serves both a practical and a decorative purpose. You'll welcome the extra storage space offered by the all purpose closet located just beyond the fireplace. Long unbroken areas along both the left and back walls of the room make attractive arrangement of large furniture pieces an easy task.



Connected directly to the living room, by a door in the back wall, the dining room is 11' x 10'6" in dimensions. Most outstanding and attractive feature of this room is the four windowed bay in the back wall. From a decorative standpoint the four windowed bay really "makes" this room; lifts it out of the ordinary class. From a practical standpoint the many windows provide plenty of good light, sunshine and ventilation. Be sure to place your dining room set where you'll reap the greatest of practical and decorative benefits from this unusual window grouping.

Built In Cabinet

The large china closet, built into the front wall of the room, will be a convenient and welcome storage spot for yuor china and glassware. Have drawers in the lower section of the closet and you can keep your fresh table linen there. Such built-in cabinets as this one in the dining room of "The Youngstown" owe their ever growing popularity not only to the fact that they are are so convenient but also to the fact that they save you the money you would spend on buying regular china cabinets, etc.

Serving meals in the dining room will present no problem in this home for the kitchen is directly connected to the dining room by a door in the side wall. Planned to make meal preparation, dish washing, etc. as pleasant and as easy as possible, this 13' x 10'6" kitchen has cabinets, counters and cupboards orranged in a U along the left, back and right walls of the room.

The stove is placed at the left end of the line of working counters, while the refrigerator is at the right end. Under the double windows in the back wall of the room and in the center of the line of working counters is the selected location for the sink. Thus all the major pieces of kitchen equipment are but a few steps from each other.

Against the front wall there's a small area set apart as the breakfast nook. You'll undoubtedly use this little nook for serving family lunches, after-school and between-meal snacks as well as at breakfast time. Placed at the right of the breakfast nook is the good sized broom closet that makes a convenient storage spot for all your cleaning tools and equipment.

Leading directly to the yard, the door in the right wall of the kitchen makes a convenient service entrance and also a handy door for the youngsters to use in their seemingly endless trips in and out of the house. Stairs to the cellar also lead down from the kitchen.

From the living room another door, also in the right wall, leads to the sun room or porch. Measuring 7' x 11', this area can be screened in, as in the illustration, or can be completely enclosed and used as another bedroom or guest room.

All three bedrooms are located in the left wing of "The Youngstown" and are connected by a central hallway leading from a door in the left wall of the living room.

Two windows in the back wall provide good light and ventilation for the 13' x 10'6" bedroom in back of the living room. This room also boasts a good sized clothes closet and if you choose to use this room for the young gentlemen in your family you'll find the right wall ideally suited to the installation of bunk beds.

Also measuring 13' x 10'6", the left back corner bedroom has one window in the back wall and two in the left wall. This room, too, has a good sized clothes closet. The all modern bath, containing both a tub and a shower, is conveniently placed between this bedroom and the front one. A linen closet, that opens on the connecting hallway, is located between these bedrooms, also.

Cross ventilation is guaranteed in the front bedroom with its one window in the front wall and another window in the left wall. Measuring 12' x 11'6", this room has two closets in the right wall of the room.

Things Of The Soil

FACTS ABOUT HOUSE FLIES

House flies, with their filth and disease-carrying dangers, are with us simply because civilized mankind is too lazy and negligent to exterminate the pests. The problem could be solved in a single year if we really wanted to solve it.

With the arrival of another season of warm weather and the perils house flies bring to human beings and fowls and animals, emphasis should, of course, turn first to prevention measures. After all, if flies are prevented from propagating, there will be no flies. On this point nine steps are stressed. They are:

1. Keep all livestock manure, particularly horse manure, in covered pits or haul it daily to distant parts of the farm and spread it on land where it is needed.

2. When manure must of necessity be left in the barnlot, pile it in compact heaps after strewing over it a half-and-half mixture of calcium cyanamid and acid phosphate at the rate of one pound to two bushels of manure, watering the fertilizing mixture into the materials.

3. Fit windows, doors and other openings of dwellings, barns, poultry and hog houses, and other structures in which animals and fowls are fed and housed with screems to bar flies. This is particularly important where human foods are exposed.

4. Do not invite flies and furnish them free meals by careless exposure of garbage — especially sweet foods and wastes. Keep all garbage tightly covered.

5. Clean and disinfect poultry houses and stables frequently in summer to eliminate breeding materials and attracting environments.

6. Apply powdered borax daily or at least every two days in outdoor toilets and over kitchen wastes that cannot be kept under cover. Lime is worthless in these roles. Do not apply borax on manures that are to be used for feeding plants.

7. Inspect drainage and sewer connections for leaks to attract flies beneath buildings.

8. Do not patronize grocers who are thoughless and careless enough to expose human foods to flies. And be certain to tell the offenders of your action because that will bring about remediaul measures.

9. Talk these prevention steps over with your neighbors and always have anti-fly plans under way and in operation in the neighborhood.

Direct combat is, of course, essential. It consists of at least five methods. They are:

1. Make liberal use of traps where flies congregate. There are several good fly traps on the market.

2. Use sticky paper indoors and out. It is easily made at home by a simple formula which the editor will furnish readers who send him a stamped, addressed envelope.

3. Where safety is possible for animals, birds and children, make use of poisons, such as three teaspoonsfuls of formalin in a pint of sweet milk or a pint of water in which honey or brown sugar is added.

4. Use DDT and other commercial fly poisons and sprays.

5. Make free use of swatters. Enlist neighborhood children at rates per 100 flies to remunerate them. It is often amazing how fast flies disappear when kiddies comprise the army, encouraged financially. Too, this makes the younger generation conscious of a problem we oldsters have seriously neglected.

Art Club Disrupted By Lack Of Models

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — The local art club has reluctantly decided to dry its paint brushes and put away its palettes and easels — local girls are too shy to pose for it in the nude.

"We've advertised and made personal approaches — offering of course the union rate of five shillings (70 cents) an hour," sadly complained Robert Huck, post office worker who was to have taught the 20 member class that includes civil servants and middle-aged housewives.

"But professional models are impossible to get here, and all the girls I asked personally were horrified and said everyone would know them."

An alternative suggestion that the class should forget about real life and concentrate on still life subjects was turned down — the club members said they could do that sort of thing at home.

Enlarge Your Garden Area By Growing Plants In Air

Pole lima beans make fruitful and handsome garden background.

Vine crops, such as cucumbers, muskmelons, squash, and pole beans, both snaps and limas, are usually considered beyond the reach of the home gardener with limited space, because of the room these crops require.

By using the air rights of his garden, however, its effective area can be increased, and some of these luxury crops enjoyed on the same ground area. A picket fence 5 feet tall on the north, east and west sides of a 1,000 square foot area will add almost half as much again to its effective size.

European gardeners have long used garden walls for climbing crops; but in our hot summers walls would reflect too much heat. A picket fence allows air to pass through freely, cooling the plants and keeping them free from mildew.

All the vine crops are tender, and should not be sown until the ground has warmed up and all danger of frost is ended.

Cucumbers, melons and squash are all natural climbers. They are grown as such in greenhouses, but in commercial production outdoors are allowed to sprawl on the ground, because of the expense which supporting them would involve.

Any variety of cucumbers may be grown without providing extra support for the fruit, but the larger melons and squash would require this. Smaller melons and squash are easily supported by the vines.

Seed may be sown in rows about a foot from the fence. Soil should be enriched by spreading commercial plant food in a shallow trench a few inches away from the seed drill, using a pint of plant food for 25 feet of row. When the seeds come up start immediately to dust the seedling plants with lindane, to kill the cucumber beetle, which infests all three of these vine crops. Lindane is a new formulation, which does everything that D.D.T. will do, but is not harmful to the vine crops, while D.D.T. is under suspicion of stunting these plants when applied too freely.

Cucumber beetles concentrate in the growing end of the vine, and not only eat the new growth, but carry a disease which may destroy the vine just when it begins to bear.

To protect the vines the growing end must be dusted every few days so that new growth is covered, until the vine is two feet tall. Cords or wires must be stretched to support the cucumber, melon and squash vines until they are well developed and begin to cling to the fence pickets.

Snap and lima beans of vining varieties give a much heavier yield for the same space than the bush varieties, but take longer to bear.

In addition to the food yield, the leaves of the vine crops provide an attractive background, fully equal to a hedge or shrubbery border in decorative value, but without competing with other crops for nutriment, as shrubs always do.

63 Children Were Raised In Cottage

WEXFORD, Ireland (AP) — The tiny thatched cottage where Michael Fenelon fathered his 63 children is to be pulled down. Local authorities have ruled it unfit for habitation.

Michael married at 17. He had 25 children by his first wife, 18 by his second and 20 by the third. He died in 1900, aged 99.

More than 250 of Michael's descendants still live in Wexford. Others have settled in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Boston. Still more live in Australia and South Africa.

AMERICANS PAY TO HELP BREAK RUSSIAN RULE

NEW YORK (AP) — Millions of Americans today are waging an independent fight to shatter Red rule in the little countries bossed by Moscow. It's a strange undertaking, unique in American history. Probably the closest parallel is the pioneer posse of the old West.

An estimated 25 million Americans have chipped in to back the national committees for a free Europe and free Asia.

The project has swelled to immense proportions — in manpower, communication networks, underground links abroad, sources of information, and as a rallying post for banished political leaders.

American private industry and foundations, as well as individual citizens, have contributed heavily to this huge, polyglot international posse.

One of its principal arms is Radio Free Europe, which pumps 55 hours per day of original broadcasts into six Iron-Curtain nations of Eastern Europe—nearly twice as much as the government's "Voice of America."

And without the diplomatic restraints, there are a half dozen other activities, all supported by the citizen-run "Crusade for Freedom" and the committees. They include:

Organizing exiled democratic political leaders to frame programs for the day of liberation.

Sending balloon-carried leaflet barrages into satellite nations.

Maintaining a free university for exiled students so they may someday become a reservoir of genuine knowledge among the thought-regimented young generations of their homelands.

Refugees Broadcast

But Radio Free Europe and Radio Free Asia stand as the most dramatic features. During the recent Senate inquiries into the state department's "Voice of America," it was proposed that the broadcasting job be turned over to private enterprise.

Approximately 1,500 men and women — many ofthem refugee Poles, Czechs, Hungarians, Romanians, Albanians and Bulgarians—are employed in pounding "the truth" home to those six Eastern European countries.

This army of broadcasters fills a seven-story Manhattan building, another big headquarters in Munich, and mans 21 powerful European transmitters.

"Attention, listeners in Bratislava!" barked a recent broadcast to Czechoslovakia. "Attention, Bratislava! Radio Free Europe warns you against Comrade Absolonova. She is a dangerous agent of the secret police."

Such disclosures are routine — part of the biting, round-the-clock spotlight kept on Iron-Curtain affairs

And what is the objective?

Officially, it's to "undermine the enemy's morale and authority."

Does this mean to stir up violent revolution? This question, said Robert Lang, 37-year-old director of Radio Free Europe, is a troubling one.

After Russian Premier Stalin died, exiled leaders of satellite nations met to ponder whether the time had come for action at home.

"The decision was," said Lang, "that in today's situation we have no right to call for a revolution that could bring about the premature slaughter of a lot of people who might someday fight on the side of the west."

And yet, if overthrow of the Red regimes isn't the objective, why keep dangling the fruits of freedom before the oppressed peoples?

Said Lang: "If the people can bring about an overthrow—more power to them! But we would never initiate it."

The broadcasts aren't intended as a "voice" of this country.

Instead, the goal is to give each Iron-Curtain nation the kind of radio it would have if it were free—a "Free Radio Warsaw," a "Free Radio Prague," a "Free Radio Budapest." There are three transmitters for each country.

To keep abreast of what's going on inside them, the organization has developed speedy, ingenious pipelines through the Iron Curtain, many of them secret.

Correspondents man strategic border points. Each day, 40,000 words of interviews with escaped refugees are culled for use. Smuggled letters and documents come through in a steady stream. And somehow, 490 Iron-Curtain newspapers and periodicals are obtained—and on the same day they are published.

Often, the "free stations" are far ahead of those inside the country with the news.

The overall project began in 1949, when a group of well-known Americans, such as Joseph C. Grew, James A. Farley, publishers Henry R. Luce and Mark Etheridge and movie executive Darryl Zanuck, formed the Free Europe Committee.

A year later, in July, 1950, the first transmitter went on in Munich.

The Free Asia Committee was founded in 1951 by a group of prominent San Francisco businessmen, including Brayton Wilbur, now the H. Green Jr., former president.

Radio Free Asia was set up the same year and now has three leased transmitters—two in Manila and one in Guam — beaming programs to China coastal areas, southeast Asia and Indonesia:

Support for the projects is through the "Crusade for Freedom," headed by Henry Ford II. Former Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson is campaign chairman. Officials won't disclose the total budget, since they don't want to give Moscow a chance to use the figures for propaganda.

Organization leaders make no exaggerated claims about results but they are convinced the work is helping preserve the remnants of democratic spirit in the satellite countries.

Time and the situation are on their side," Lang said. "And we may be fighting a losing game. But the losing is a lot slower than it would be without this instrument. We may not be converting hundreds of thousands of people to democracy. But committee's chairman, and George we are preventing the conversion of hundreds of thousands to communism."

layers of nylon net with an underskirt of rustling taffeta was also accented with seed pearls. Her finger tip length veil fell from a lace cap edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Reception Follows

The matron of honor wore a powder blue gown fashioned with a fitted lace bodice with an off the shoulder cape and the full skirt was of net over taffeta. Her headdress was a hat of matching blue lace and her mitts were also blue lace. She carried a bouquet of assorted pink flowers.

The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Winfield A. Lippy, church organist, who also accompanied the soloist, Miss Betty Zumbrun, Littlestown. She sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the wedding guests in the social room of the church. The couple then left on a wedding trip of unannounced destination. For traveling, the bride chose a light blue suit with white accessories and her corsage was of white rosebuds. Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside on W. King St., Littlestown.

Mr. Geisler was graduated from the Littlestown High School in 1949 and from the Thompson Business College, York. He is employed by Geisler Furniture Company, Littlestown. Mrs. Geisler, a 1949 graduate of the Littlestown High School, is a Littlestown operator for the United Telephone Company.

Support for the projects is through the "Crusade for Freedom," headed by Henry Ford II. Former Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson is campaign chairman. Officials won't disclose the total budget, since they don't want to give Moscow a chance to use the figures for propaganda.

Organization leaders make no exaggerated claims about results but they are convinced the work is helping preserve the remnants of democratic spirit in the satellite countries.

Time and the situation are on their side," Lang said. "And we may be fighting a losing game. But the losing is a lot slower than it would be without this instrument. We may not be converting hundreds of thousands of people to democracy. But committee's chairman, and George we are preventing the conversion of hundreds of thousands to communism."

layers of nylon net with an underskirt of rustling taffeta was also accented with seed pearls. Her finger tip length veil fell from a lace cap edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Reception Follows

The matron of honor wore a powder blue gown fashioned with a fitted lace bodice with an off the shoulder cape and the full skirt was of net over taffeta. Her headdress was a hat of matching blue lace and her mitts were also blue lace. She carried a bouquet of assorted pink flowers.

The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Winfield A. Lippy, church organist, who also accompanied the soloist, Miss Betty Zumbrun, Littlestown. She sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the wedding guests in the social room of the church. The couple then left on a wedding trip of unannounced destination. For traveling, the bride chose a light blue suit with white accessories and her corsage was of white rosebuds. Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside on W. King St., Littlestown.

Mr. Geisler was graduated from the Littlestown High School in 1949 and from the Thompson Business College, York. He is employed by Geisler Furniture Company, Littlestown. Mrs. Geisler, a 1949 graduate of the Littlestown High School, is a Littlestown operator for the United Telephone Company.

EAGLE ON GOLF COURSE

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — They not only score eagles on the North Platte Country club golf course, they also catch 'em. Club Manager Chet Butterfield and Charles Glasscock of North Platte ran down and caught one of the birds after it showed up on the course with a bruised wing.

FREEZE AND STORE
IN ANY COMPARTMENT
IN THIS NEW KELVINATOR UPRIGHT FREEZER!

Featuring freezing coils in all five walls, this new Kelvinator gives you 1/3 more fast-freezing surface than ordinary upright freezers. So uniform is the low temperature that you can freeze foods properly merely by placing them in any of the four separate compartments. And your packages won't freeze tightly together, because the shelves in this Kelvinator won't accumulate space-stealing blankets of ice or frost.

RENEW DEMAND FOR SPEED CUT ON TURNPIKE

HARRISBURG (AP) — A demand was renewed today by some legislators to lower the speed limit of the Pennsylvania Turnpike in the wake of a bus crash which killed five women and injured 30 other persons.

Rep. Nolan F. Ziegler, Dauphin County Republican, said he will redouble efforts for action on his bill reducing the speed limit on the toll road from 70 to 60 miles an hour, if it is found that "speed was a contributing factor" in the crash.

The present speed limit of the Western section of the 327 mile express highway across Pennsylvania now is 60 miles an hour and 70 miles an hour on the Eastern section.

Identify Five Dead

Coroner Thomas J. Fritchey fixed June 25 at Harrisburg for an inquest into the circumstances and cause of the accident.

Meantime, the five women victims of the crash of a westbound Greyhound Bus on Friday on the Eastern section of the superhighway were identified by state police.

They were: Mrs. Ida L. Chantz, 53; Flemington, N. J.; Mrs. Regina Biehler, 40, Philadelphia; Mrs. Louise Fay, 60, Chester, Pa.; Mrs. Mildred Sutherland, 40, Washington, Pa., and Mrs. Janice Heller, 17, Philadelphia, a bride of only a month.

Cpl. R. R. Heckman of the state police said Francis J. Garoff, 26, Philadelphia, driver of the bus, reported he felt the front wheel drop off the pavement, and applied the brakes when he was unable to get back onto the highway. The bus crashed into a tractor-trailer parked off the pavement.

Hit Parked Truck

Cpl. William Morrow, Pittsburgh, a passenger just returned from army service in Germay, said the bus seemed to be traveling "at a normal rate of speed."

Dist. Atty. Huette Dowling of Dauphin County said he was conducting an investigation in cooperation with state police to determine if the circumstances warranted a charge of involuntary manslaughter against the bus driver.

Dowling said, however, that a coroner's inquest first must be held to detail the circumstances for the official record.

The House of Representatives of the Pennsylvania Legislature is in recess until June 22. Dauphin County members of the House indicated the bus crash would receive attention after the present recess.

Rep. Robert S. Ogilvie, another Dauphin County Republican, commented that the bus accident provides "all the more reason" why Ziegler's speed reducing proposal should be reported out of committee in the House and voted upon by the Assembly.

"I think it's about time something drastic should be done to cut down on the turnpike accident rate," Rep. Ogilvie said.

VOLUNTARY TAX

OMAHA (AP) — "This past year has been pretty good to me," an 80-year-old retired farmer wrote the Nebraska Bureau of Internal Revenue office here. "So I feel I should be good to my government. Please accept my personal check for $50 as a little boost to the best government in this mixed-up world." The donor explained that the extra deduction because of his age exempted him from paying any income tax.

HUGE U. S. BILL IN KOREAN WAR

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has spent about $101,740,000,000 in the past three years on rearmament and the Korean War, the Defense Department estimated today.

During that time, Congress has granted the military about $155,579,000,000 in new obligational authority—the right to contract for material and service.

With the help of the $101,740,000,000 expenditure, the Defense Department has formed a force of about 3½ million men, started re-equipping and expanding the number of weapons for the Air Force, Army and Navy and fought the Korean War. This expenditure does not include money used by the Atomic Energy Commission for atomic bombs.

In a similar three-year period of World War II (the fiscal years 1942-44, inclusive) expenditures were $162,767,000,000. In that time, the strength of the armed forces increased to about 11 millions. The war was being fought on fronts in Europe and the Pacific.

Godfrey Hopes To Return In August

BOSTON (AP)—Entertainer Arthur Godfrey hopes to leave the hospital early next month and return to his television and radio programs "sometime after the first of August."

"We can broadcast and telecast shows from my farm until I'm able to get around," Godfrey said in a bedside interview yesterday at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Godfrey was operated on May 15 to correct right hip injuries suffered in an automobile accident 22 years ago. Proposed surgery on his left hip has been postponed indefinitely.

MUD CLOSES SCHOOLS

HEATH, Mass. (AP) — Spring is in the air, and there's mud in the roads. In fact, there is so much that every year the local children are given a school vacation because the roads are made impassable by the spring rains. This year the students in Heath, and the neaby village of Hawley are excused from classes for two weeks.

Tells GOP To Cut Taxes Or Lose Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) predicted today that if taxes are not cut this year, the Democrats will win back control of Congress in 1954.

Taking direct issue with President Eisenhower, Reed said a promise to cut taxes "was one of the main pledges made during the campaign" by GOP members of Congress "and the President too." Eisenhower has said he never promised to reduce taxes right away.

"You'd be surprised the way the people resent the failure to keep that pledge," Reed said in a copyrighted interview published today by the magazine U. S. News and World Report. "If the people don't get this tax reduction now, you will have a Democratic Congress next time."

CHEMICALS CAN BE DANGEROUS FOR HOME USE

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — Chemicals that kill weeds and bugs in the garden are bringing the Pushbutton Age closer, but Don't throw away your hoe.

Hold fast also to your caution and follow directions if you expect new compounds to do their best work for you, say Rutgers scientists. No doubt about it, that many of the sprays and dusts with jawbreaking names have made life easier for farmers and gardeners.

But you can get into trouble with some of them if you're not careful, says Russell Stanton, College of Agriculture, Rutgers University.

Take 2, 4-Dichlorphenoxyacetic acid for instance. Basic ingredient of many packaged weed killers especially effective against boradleaved pests, it's known familiarly as 2,4-D. But this new found friend that can help rid your lawn of dandelions and other plantain can also kill your tomatoes and almost any other plants with broad leaves within range of your spray.

Unbelievably small quantities of 2,4-D can do good or evil. The story is told of a Rutgers researcher whose station wagon carried, among other items, a container of 2,4-D that had been opened, and a ball of twine. When pieces of the twine were used to tie tomato plants to stakes the tomatoes showed the familiar 2,4 D effects.

Vapors from the 2,4-D apparently had been absorbed by the twine — just enough to affect the tomatoes even when only small bits of twine were used.

Used as a fine spray, 2,4-D can be carried many yards by the wind. Furthermore, it's hard to get the 2,4-D cleaned out of a sprayer that you may want to use later for insecticide.

Around here we use dime store paint brush to wipe out weeds. The little solution that the brush can hold is enough to apply to an unwanted weed in the lawn, and there's no danger of drift. If you don't like to stoop you can tack the bursh to an old broomstick.

Likes Paint Brush Best

Some gardeners have taken over juniors' water pistol as a weapon against weeds, loading it with 2,4-D solution, but Dr. Ralph Engel, turf specialist, frowns upon even this apparently commendable use of the squirt gun. One shot may be too much of a dose, he says. He likes his paint brush.

The anti-bug warfare has made big strides in recent years, too, and commercial vegetable and fruit growers are making good use of new insecticides fresh from the laboratory. Most of them follow manufacturers' directions to the letter and so avoid the troubles that misuse can bring.

Actually, the home gardener can go lightly armed with insecticides and win the battle against bugs. So says Bailey B. Pepper, entomologist.

Most insect damage can be expected from the family of flea beetles, the Colorado potato beetle, Mexican bean beetle and cabbage worms. In fighting these you can get the upper hand by using products that contain pyrethrum, rotenone or methoxychlor, all effective, but with no health hazard. Get in the habit of reading the fine print on the label to be sure of what you're buying, and also to follow printed instructions, the scientific garden experts say.

If you have a particular insect, plant disease or wood problem, you can always get expert advice from your county agricultural agent or farm advisor.

You'll still find the hoe useful for getting certain garden jobs done and as a symbol of common sense.

MONTREAL (AP) — A call to Canadian youth to seek adventure in the Canadian north was sounded by Lt. Col. P. D. Baird, director of the Montreal office of the Arctic Institute of North America. In an address here he said disappointingly few young Canadians volunteered when expeditions are being fitted out to explore Arctic regions.

State Senate Takes Up Tax Bill While House Recesses

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate, largely in the background in the General Assembly's five-month long tax deadlock, tried its hand today at unraveling the snarl.

The Senate, alone, took up the Assembly's biggest problem—Balancing the commonwealth's $1,400,000,000 budget—since the House is in recess until June 22.

At the same time, Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president protempore of the Senate, who is also Republican state chairman, called for Republicans in both branches to put aside their differences for party unity.

"It's high time the members of the Legislature put the party above self," Taylor said. "Is the party to be destroyed because of people sparring for position?"

"The Republican party in Pennsylvania," Taylor said, "has a record of performance and that record is gonig to be maintained so long as I am state chairman."

Have Two Measures

Two possible taxes may figure in Senate consideration of ways to raise 118 million dollars Gov. John S. Fine estimated is needed to balance the budget for the 1953-55 biennium, which started June 1.

They are extension of the present six mill tax on gross receipts of electric utilities to gas companies and an increase of one per cent to six per cent the present corporate net income tax.

The gas tax was estimated to produce 12 million dollars and the corporate income levy an additional 50 million dollars, a total of 62 millions, more than half the amount estimated to be needed.

However, Gov. Fine has come out flatly against any increase in corporation taxes in the state on the ground it would mean loss of industry and employment in the state. The present five per cent corporate net income tax produces 200 million dollars in a two-year period.

2 Subjects To Amendment

By constitutional mandate, all tax bills must originate in the House but both the electric utility and corporate net income tax bills passed that branch and are pending in the Senate Finance Committee. They are subject to amendment there.

The House gave up, for the time being, last week in solving the tax problem, winding up the week's session with an unusual walk out by the representatives. They got up and walked out, individually in groups, while waiting for the final session of the week to start.

The House was called to pass on a series of "hodge podge" levies after defeating finally the sales tax, first choice of the Republican leadership to balance the budget.

The taxes to be taken up by the House when it reconvenes next week include one per cent on income of incorporated businesses, 22 million dollars; one cent increase from four to five in the state cigarette tax, 22 millions; revive the soft drink tax, 29 millions, and a levy on cigars and tobacco products along lines of the federal tax, 11 millions.

Considerable Opposition

While the unincorporated business tax still remained on the House calendar, GOP leaders doubted it would be brought to a vote. Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said considerable opposition against it developed at the House GOP caucus.

Meantime, Rep. H. G. Andrews, Democratic floor leader, declared the legislative situation was "grave" in a letter to Maurice Splain Jr., Democratic state chairman. He asked Splain for advice on how the Democratic minority should conduct itself.

Andrews wrote that individual Democratic members are inclined to insist that the stalemated situation should be used to promote measures in which they are interested but that he was disinclined to identify the Democratic party with "individual deals."

"Our state House of Representatives has ceased to be a deliberative legislative body," Andrews wrote. The majority party (Republican) in the House is being torn asunder by contending factional groups, by personal and political feuds and by self-seeking members who have sought to use the fact that the house has operated with a narrow margin, as an occasion for accumulating political loot."

The Republican majority in the House, Andrews said, "are becoming more and more leaderless men," adding:

"The situation is rapidly approaching the point where no matter how sincerely the Democratic party's leadership might desire to cooperate with majority party leaders, there is no responsible group with which to cooperate."

on which "junior" may ride while "mother" fills the basket with items from the shelves, will be found just inside the doors. Walls and display furnishings are in gleaming white; posts are covered with flexiglass reflectors; the ceiling is white acoustic tile and the floor linoleum blocks. Dozens of flourescent tubes in parallel rows in what is termed "slim line lighting" illuminate the entire store.

Even the meat department will be self-service. In rooms back of the long, refrigerated display cases, meats, poultry and fish will be cut or otherwise prepared and weighed, packaged and labeled and placed for ready access without waiting for an attendant. Should a customer desire something not shown, there is a push button which will bring one of the meat department attendants to a window to supply information or give service not provided under the glass counters. There will also be an attendant on duty in front of the cases.

Frosted Food Display

The interior of the store is 80 by 100 feet. The meat display extends along the entire south side of the store, with 70 feet of refrigerated space. Opposite it is the frosted food display, 45 feet of glass-topped space under refrigeration for all types of frozen food. Back of the meat department is a large storage room approximately 30 by 80 feet. Low temperatures are maintained in the meat storage "vault," and both rooms for preparation of meats, poultry and fish are air-conditioned.

Along the west end of the store extends an 85-foot bin and counter for produce and "green goods." At the north side of the store is the dairy department. Seven "gondolas," displaying hundreds of various items, are spaced 10 to 12 feet apart through the center of the store.

The old Acme Market in the Masonic Building on Lincoln Square closed Saturday night.

When the new super market opens at 6 o'clock Tuesday night, it will be primarily for an "open house," but visitors may also make purchases if they so desire. Attendants will be on duty at the seven checking stations. The latter are the new Rapistan check stands, designed with moving belt tops to facilitate the handling of merchandise as it is taken from the baskets while prices are totaled on the cash registers.

SEVEN KILLED IN PENNSYLVANIA OVER WEEKEND

By The Associated Press

Accidents claimed the lives of at least seven persons throughout Pennsylvania over the week end.

Four of the victims died in traffic mishaps; two men were killed in the fiery collision of two stock cars at the Reading Fairgrounds, and the seventh victim was electrocuted.

Dead in the racing accident were George Lloyd, 27, and his brother-in-law, Robert Rolland, 26, both of Reading. The accident, occurring on the fourth-lap of the 50-lap feature race at the fairgrounds, sent a third driver, David Haldeman of Bechtelsville R. 1, to Community General Hospital in Reading with a possible fractured skull and other injuries.

Haldeman's car went off the dirt track and into the muddy infield, then bounced off the guard rail and careened across the track, smashing into the outside guard rail.

As the other 30 cars entered in the race jockeyed to avoid the accident, Rolland's car rammed through the inside guard rail and crashed into the base of a light standard. Moments later, Lloyd's car plowed into Rolland's racer and the two burst into flames. The remainder of the race was cancelled.

It took firefighters about 15 minutes to quell the flames. Half an hour later the bodies had been removed from the charred cars.

On Saturday, violent thunderstorms and darting fingers of lightning lashed across the state. The storms were accompanied by low hanging dark clouds that turned mid-day into darkness in many places.

Two Inches Of Rain

A total of two inches of rain was officially recorded in Perkiomen Valley before the storm abated. The Philadelphia area fared a little better—only 1.5 inches of rain was recorded.

Lightning caused minor damage to seveal buildings in Lancaster.

In Philadelphia Saturday, James Harris, 23, was killed when his car skidded, overturned several times and crashed on the Delaware River Bridge Plaza. He was coming off the bridge when the accident occurred.

A 48-year-old Philadelphia man was killed under the wheels of a bus from which he had alighted moment earlier. The victim was Daniel Friel, 48.

Harry E. Randall, 37, of Williamsport, died Saturday, several hours after being injured when his car plowed into a tree.

Aged Merchant Killed

The fourth traffic victim was a 70-year-old former Warren, Pa., merchant, Gilbert G. Johnson. Coroner Ed Lowery said Johnson died several hours after being thrown from a station wagon which rammed another vehicle at a Warren intersection.

Matthew Pienowski was electrocuted in his Philadelphia home Sunday. Police said the victim, a 33-year-old iron worker, was attempting to install a new lighting fixture while the electricity was turned on.

NOT SO SALTY

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Hand thrust in coat pocket, the man ordered George Hughs, bartender, to give him all the money in the till. Hughs refused and he also refused to hand over $10 or $20.

The man then pulled his hand out of his pocket, laid a salt shaker on the bar and fled.

A snowfall of 60 feet in one year is not uncommon in Oregon's Crater Lake National Park.

Have Two Measures

Two possible taxes may figure in Senate consideration of ways to raise 118 million dollars Gov. John S. Fine estimated is needed to balance the budget for the 1953-55 biennium, which started June 1.

They are extension of the present six mill tax on gross receipts of electric utilities to gas companies and an increase of one per cent to six per cent the present corporate net income tax

The gas tax was estimated to produce 12 million dollars and the corporate income levy an additional 50 million dollars, a total of 62 millions, more than half the amount estimated to be needed.

However, Gov. Fine has come out flatly against any increase in corporation taxes in the state on the ground it would mean loss of industry and employment in the state. The present five per cent corporate net income tax produces 200 million dollars in a two-year period.

2 Subjects To Amendment

By constitutional mandate, all tax bills must originate in the House but both the electric utility and corporate net income tax bills passed that branch and are pending in the Senate Finance Committee. They are subject to amendment there.

The House gave up, for the time being, last week in solving the tax problem, winding up the week's session with an unusual walk out by the representatives. They got up and walked out, individually in groups, while waiting for the final session of the week to start.

The House was called to pass on a series of "hodge podge" levies after defeating finally the sales tax, first choice of the Republican leadership to balance the budget

The taxes to be taken up by the House when it reconvenes next week include one per cent on income of incorporated businesses, 22 million dollars; one cent increase from four to five in the state cigarette tax, 22 millions; revive the soft drink tax, 29 millions, and a levy on cigars and tobacco products along lines of the federal tax, 11 millions.

Considerable Opposition

While the unincorporated business tax still remained on the House calendar, GOP leaders doubted it would be brought to a vote. Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said considerable opposition against it developed at the House GOP caucus.

Meantime, Rep. H. G. Andrews, Democratic floor leader, declared the legislative situation was "grave" in a letter to Maurice Splain Jr., Democratic state chairman. He asked Splain for advice on how the Democratic minority should conduct itself.

Andrews wrote that individual Democratic members are inclined to insist that the stalemated situation should be used to promote measures in which they are interested but that he was disinclined to identify the Democratic party with "individual deals"

"Our state House of Representatives has ceased to be a deliberative legislative body," Andrews wrote. The majority party (Republican) in the House is being torn asunder by contending factional groups, by personal and political feuds and by self-seeking members who have sought to use the fact that the house has operated with a narrow margin, as an occasion for accumulating political loot."

The Republican majority in the House, Andrews said, "are becoming more and more leaderless men," adding:

"The situation is rapidly approaching the point where no matter how sincerely the Democratic party's leadership might desire to cooperate with majority party leaders, there is no responsible group with which to cooperate."

on which "junior" may ride while "mother" fills the basket with items from the shelves, will be found just inside the doors. Walls and display furnishings are in gleaming white; posts are covered with flexiglass reflectors; the ceiling is white acoustic tile and the floor linoleum blocks. Dozens of flourescent tubes in parallel rows in what is termed "slim line lighting" illuminate the entire store.

Even the meat department will be self-service In rooms back of the long, refrigerated display cases, meats, poultry and fish will be cut or otherwise prepared and weighed, packaged and labeled and placed for ready access without waiting for an attendant. Should a customer desire something not shown, there is a push button which will bring one of the meat department attendants to a window to supply information or give service not provided under the glass counters. There will also be an attendant on duty in front of the cases.

Frosted Food Display

The interior of the store is 80 by 100 feet. The meat display extends along the entire south side of the store, with 70 feet of refrigerated space. Opposite it is the frosted food display, 45 feet of glass-topped space under refrigeration for all types of frozen food. Back of the meat department is a large storage room approximately 30 by 80 feet. Low temperatures are maintained in the meat storage "vault," and both rooms for preparation of meats, poultry and fish are air-conditioned.

Along the west end of the store extends an 85-foot bin and counter for produce and "green goods." At the north side of the store is the dairy department. Seven "gondolas," displaying hundreds of various items, are spaced 10 to 12 feet apart through the center of the store

The old Acme Market in the Masonic Building on Lincoln Square closed Saturday night.

When the new super market opens at 6 o'clock Tuesday night, it will be primarily for an "open house," but visitors may also make purchases if they so desire. Attendants will be on duty at the seven checking stations. The latter are the new Rapistan check stands, designed with moving belt tops to facilitate the handling of merchandise as it is taken from the baskets while prices are totaled on the cash registers.

SEVEN KILLED IN PENNSYLVANIA OVER WEEKEND

By The Associated Press

Accidents claimed the lives of at least seven persons throughout Pennsylvania over the week end.

Four of the victims died in traffic mishaps; two men were killed in the fiery collision of two stock cars at the Reading Fairgrounds, and the seventh victim was electrocuted.

Dead in the racing accident were George Lloyd, 27, and his brother-in-law, Robert Rolland, 26, both of Reading. The accident, occurring on the fourth-lap of the 50-lap feature race at the fairgrounds, sent a third driver, David Haldeman of Bechtelsville R. 1, to Community General Hospital in Reading with a possible fractured skull and other injuries.

Haldeman's car went off the dirt track and into the muddy infield, then bounced off the guard rail and careened across the track, smashing into the outside guard rail.

As the other 30 cars entered in the race jockeyed to avoid the accident, Rolland's car rammed through the inside guard rail and crashed into the base of a light standard. Moments later, Lloyd's car plowed into Rolland's racer and the two burst into flames. The remainder of the race was cancelled.

It took firefighters about 15 minutes to quell the flames. Half an hour later the bodies had been removed from the charred cars.

On Saturday, violent thunderstorms and darting fingers of lightning lashed across the state. The storms were accompanied by low hanging dark clouds that turned mid-day into darkness in many places.

Two Inches Of Rain

A total of two inches of rain was officially recorded in Perkiomen Valley before the storm abated. The Philadelphia area fared a little better—only 1.5 inches of rain was recorded.

Lightning caused minor damage to seveal buildings in Lancaster.

In Philadelphia Saturday, James Harris, 23, was killed when his car skidded, overturned several times and crashed on the Delaware River Bridge Plaza. He was coming off the bridge when the accident occurred.

A 48-year-old Philadelphia man was killed under the wheels of a bus from which he had alighted moment earlier. The victim was Daniel Friel, 48.

Harry E. Randall, 37, of Williamsport, died Saturday, several hours after being injured when his car plowed into a tree.

Aged Merchant Killed

The fourth traffic victim was a 70-year-old former Warren, Pa., merchant, Gilbert G. Johnson. Coroner Ed Lowery said Johnson died several hours after being thrown from a station wagon which rammed another vehicle at a Warren intersection.

Matthew Pienowski was electrocuted in his Philadelphia home Sunday. Police said the victim, a 33-year-old iron worker, was attempting to install a new lighting fixture while the electricity was turned on.

NOT SO SALTY

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Hand thrust in coat pocket, the man ordered George Hughs, bartender, to give him all the money in the till. Hughs refused and he also refused to hand over $10 or $20.

The man then pulled his hand out of his pocket, laid a salt shaker on the bar and fled.

A snowfall of 60 feet in one year is not uncommon in Oregon's Crater Lake National Park.

PILOT DIES IN PLANE'S CABIN

PORT NORRIS, N. J. (AP)—The body of Manuel (Manny) Pack, head of the Milford, Del., Civil Air Patrol, has been found pinned in the wreckage of a small plane believed torn to pieces in a thunderstorm.

Search parties reached the scene in a wooded area outside of nearby Mauricetown last night. Pack was identified through personal papers and numbers on the battered wings of his Beechcraft Bonanza.

Capt. Al Uber, commanding officer of the Millville Cap, said he believed Pack' plane ran into a thunderhead Saturday afternoon and was "literally torn apart" by the violent winds.

The crushed fuselage, with Pack's body pinned inside, was found wedged upside down in dirt on a backwoods road.

Pack, a major in the Delaware Cap, was vice president of the Rodney Feed Co., in Millsboro, Del.

They had taken off from Mahwah, N. J., for a trip to Barre, Vt. The plane landed at an airport here for a stop at Lovett's summer home. It crashed on takeoff from the airport.

Morrill and Lovett will be buried in the same cemetery in Warren. Funeral services for Lovett also will be held tomorrow, at Waitsfield, Vt.

Signs Of Quick Truce Mount But Communists Smash South In Stretch Drive Offensive

MUNSAN (AP)—Signs of a quick truce increased today even as Communist armies to the east smashed south in a stretch drive offensive.

Although reasons behind the 11th-hour Red attack left observers mystified, these developments pointed to an imminent armistice:

1. Word leaked out that staff officers writing the last details of an armistice have struck no snags. However, they may have to consider the changing battle line, which might change the 2½-mile-wide truce buffer zone they are setting up.

2. Allied and Red liaison officers met in secret for 19 minutes. A spokesman said only that they met to discuss administrative details pertaining of the truce negotiations. However, they could have arranged for the next meeting of the main truce negotiation delegations, which have been in recess a week. The main delegates must approve the details written by staff officers.

3. Troops and supply trucks poured into this base camp as the Allies rushed preparations for the huge prisoner exchange to follow an armistice.

4. Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. N. field commander, warned his Eighth Army by radio that the impending armistice would not end the war in itself and told the soldiers to stay ready to fight if necessary. He said the "possibility of an armistice has increased to the point that we must consider what a signing would mean . . ."

The staff officers of both sides—working in two groups — held lengthy sessions Sunday. One group is believed drawing the demarcation line for the buffer zone and the other writing details for prisoner exchange. They recessed until 11 a.m. Tuesday.

President Syngman Rhee called off the antitruce demonstrations which echoed for five days in South Korean streets. However, there was no indication the South Korean government has backed down on its unbending opposition to the armistice and its threats to carry on the war by itself.

One thousand South Koreans met in a Seoul park Sunday for prayer and a less noisy protest against the truce. They adopted this resolution:

A reception was held afterwards in the social rooms of the church. The couple left on a honeymoon of unannounced destination. Upon their return they will reside at 5734 Fleming Ave., Oakland, Calif.

The bride was graduated from the Biglerville High School in 1949 and from the Jefferson Medical College School of Nursing in 1952. ELKS OBSERVE

Donald Hubbard, James G. Warren, Paul Grupe, Donald Myers and Ivan Collins.

After the presentation of the rotating flag by Mr. Pfeffer, Mr. Reigle gave a brief tribute to the flag and Mr. Pfeffer responded.

Hope Of All Peoples

Describing the Stars and Stropes as "the world-wide hope of all peoples who under God would be free to live and do His will," Mr. Pfeffer said in part:

"Upon its folds is written the story of America, the epic of the mightiest and noblest nation in all history. In the days when the peoples of the old world groveled in object homage to the heresy of 'the divine right of kings,' a new constellation appeared in the western skies, the Stars and Stripes, symbolizing the divine right of all men to life, liberty, happiness and peace under endowment by their Creator."

Reviewing briefly the story of the building of this nation, Mr. Pfeffer continued: "This is the heritage of the people of these United States. It has been repurchased by each generation and must be rewon by each generation until the end of time, lest it too shall pass like the Medes and Persians and the ancient emperors of Greece and Rome.

Liberty Needs Vigilance

"No longer are the oceans to our east and west, moats that securely guard our castle walls. Distance in space and time is now effaced.' . . . 'The price of liberty is eternal vigilance.' . . . This is indeed one world but nearness is not oneness. Common ideals and principles alone can unite the nations of the world.

"The Stars and Stripes is the symbol of true world unity. 'In God we trust' is its motto. The modern world in the vanity of its scientific and technological achievements may forget God; and when men forget their Creator their own creations will be turned upon them. The atom and hydrogen bombs, the creations of modern science, encase the potential holocaust of nations. Only love, true love of our fellowmen, can contain these world destroying implements. The emblem and token of that love is the Stars and Stripes, symbol of the American way of life; obedience under law."

The audience sang God Bless America" and gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag as the exercises closed. The band remained to play several selections as the audience disbanded.

areas will be developed and blacktopped as the need arises.

Three Units Erected

The property on which the shopping center stands was purchased by Mr. Bream on October 1, 1950, from the Mertz estate for $22,700. Ground was broken for the Acme store, first of the three units, on October 20, 1952. The building is 80 by 125 feet, of brick and concrete block construction, providing 10,000 square feet of store space on the ground floor, with a 30 by 60 foot basement providing 1,800 square feet of storage. The center has a 16-foot alley back of it. Land for the alley was deeded to the borough by Mr. Bream, and has been ordained and named Bream Alley.

The entire area measures 206 feet on Spring Ave., 378 feet on West St., 380 feet on W. Middle St. and 430 feet at the rear, bordering the Tiber. Total of the project thus far, exclusive of the purchase price of the land, is $105,000. Three thousand dollars was spent by Mr. Bream in building a wall along the Tiber. The project required 13,300 tons of earth fill.

Ten-Year Lease

The Acme Market, which has a ten-year lease, and other units in the shopping center, face West St. A double line of parking spaces is provided in front of the market and a single line on the Springs Ave. side, where parking will be limited to market patrons only. The remainder of the parking area provides free parking for anyone, on a 24-hour basis, and is expected to do much to relieve parking congestion in the central part of Gettysburg.

The architect was Herbert Plunkert, Littlestown and the contractor the Gettysburg Construction C[illegible] with Joel Hill as construction for[illegible]man and Paul R. Knox as supervisor.

Attended Univ. Of Nevada

Mr. Bream, owner and developer of the shopping center, is a native of Gettysburg who attended schools here, Gettysburg College and the University of Nevada. During his school and college days he was an athlete of note in three sports, baseball, basketball and football.

He is a son of Mrs. Minnie Bream, Gettysburg. He entered the automobile business 21 years ago, at Buford and Seminary Aves. and Howard St., and is sales representative for Oldsmobile and Cadillac automobiles and GMC trucks. He is one of the largest used car dealers in this area and in Chambersburg where he also has a used car business, and employs 25 persons.

WELCOME TO GETTYSBURG SHOPPING CENTER

It is with humble, yet enthusiastic pride that we present to the citizens of this area a new and completely modern shopping center for our historic community.

That Adams Countians will benefit from the construction of Gettysburg Shopping Center is ample reward for those who initiated and participated in the project.—That visitors to Gettysburg may carry away with them the thought of progress as well as the satisfaction of having visited one of the nation's shrines is gratifying.

We welcome Acme Super Market to its new headquarters at the junction of Buford and Springs Avenues—West and Chambersburg Streets, and we extend congratulations on your Grand Opening.

However, they could have arranged for the next meeting of the main truce negotiation delegations, which have been in recess a week. The main delegates must approve the details written by staff officers.

3. Troops and supply trucks poured into this base camp as the Allies rushed preparations for the huge prisoner exchange to follow an armistice.

4. Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. N. field commander, warned his Eighth Army by radio that the impending armistice would not end the war in itself and told the soldiers to stay ready to fight if necessary. He said the "possibility of an armistice has increased to the point that we must consider what a signing would mean . . ."

The staff officers of both sides—working in two groups — held lengthy sessions Sunday. One group is believed drawing the demarcation line for the buffer zone and the other writing details for prisoner exchange. They recessed until 11 a.m. Tuesday.

President Syngman Rhee called off the antitruce demonstrations which echoed for five days in South Korean streets. However, there was no indication the South Korean government has backed down on its unbending opposition to the armistice and its threats to carry on the war by itself.

One thousand South Koreans met in a Seoul park Sunday for prayer and a less noisy protest against the truce. They adopted this resolution:

quet of white daisies, carnations and ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Anita Goff, Philadelphia, a classmate of the bride, wore a waltz-length gown of lime green embroidered organdy and a floral headdress. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies, carnations and ivy.

Herber P. Folker, Oakland, Calif., the groom's father, was the best man, and the ushers were Dr. Lewis May, Salem, W. Va., and Dr. Donald Moore, Philadelphia, both fraternity brothers of the groom.

A reception was held afterwards in the social rooms of the church. The couple left on a honeymoon of unannounced destination. Upon their return they will reside at 5734 Fleming Ave., Oakland, Calif.

The bride was graduated from the Biglerville High School in 1949 and from the Jefferson Medical College School of Nursing in 1952. Her husband was graduated from the University of California in 1949 and from the Jefferson Medical College this spring. He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa and Kappa Beta Phi fraternities. Dr. Folker will begin his internship at the Highland Almeda County Hospital, Oakland, Calif., in the near future.

Out-of-town guests were from New Haven, Conn.; New York City; West Virginia; Philadelphia; Lancaster; Baltimore; California and Harrisburg.

Donald Hubbard, James G. Warren, Paul Grupe, Donald Myers and Ivan Collins.

After the presentation of the rotating flag by Mr. Pfeffer, Mr. Reigle gave a brief tribute to the flag and Mr. Pfeffer responded.

Hope Of All Peoples

Describing the Stars and Stropes as "the world-wide hope of all peoples who under God would be free to live and do His will," Mr. Pfeffer said in part:

"Upon its folds is written the story of America, the epic of the mightiest and noblest nation in all history. In the days when the peoples of the old world groveled in object homage to the heresy of 'the divine right of kings,' a new constellation appeared in the western skies, the Stars and Stripes, symbolizing the divine right of all men to life, liberty, happiness and peace under endownment by their Creator."

Reviewing briefly the story of the building of this nation, Mr. Pfeffer continued: "This is the heritage of the people of these United States. It has been repurchased by each generation and must be rewon by each generation until the end of time, lest it too shall pass like the Medes and Persians and the ancient emperors of Greece and Rome.

Liberty Needs Vigilance

"No longer are the oceans to our east and west, moats that securely guard our castle walls. Distance in space and time is now effaced.' . . . 'The price of liberty is eternal vigilance.' . . . This is indeed one world but nearness is not oneness. Common ideals and principles alone can unite the nations of the world.

"The Stars and Stripes is the symbol of true world unity. 'In God we trust' is its motto. The modern world in the vanity of its scientific and technological achievements may forget God; and when men forget their Creator their own creations will be turned upon them. The atom and hydrogen bombs, the creations of modern science, encase the potential holocaust of nations. Only love, true love of our fellowmen, can contain these world destroying implements. The emblem and token of that love is the Stars and Stripes, symbol of the American way of life; obedience under law."

The audience sang God Bless America" and gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag as the exercises closed. The band remained to play several selections as the audience disbanded.

areas will be developed and blacktopped as the need arises.

Three Units Erected

The property on which the shopping center stands was purchased by Mr. Bream on October 1, 1950, from the Mertz estate for $22,700. Ground was broken for the Acme store, first of the three units, on October 20, 1952. The building is 80 by 125 feet, of brick and concrete block construction, providing 10,000 square feet of store space on the ground floor, with a 30 by 60 foot basement providing 1,800 square feet of storage. The center has a 16-foot alley back of it. Land for the alley was deeded to the borough by Mr. Bream, and has been ordained and named Bream Alley.

The entire area measures 206 feet on Spring Ave., 378 feet on West St., 380 feet on W. Middle St. and 430 feet at the rear, bordering the Tiber. Total of the project thus far, exclusive of the purchase price of the land, is $105,000. Three thousand dollars was spent by Mr. Bream in building a wall along the Tiber. The project required 13,300 tons of earth fill.

Ten-Year Lease

The Acme Market, which has a ten-year lease, and other units in the shopping center, face West St. A double line of parking spaces is provided in front of the market and a single line on the Springs Ave. side, where parking will be limited to market patrons only. The remainder of the parking area provides free parking for anyone, on a 24-hour basis, and is expected to do much to relieve parking congestion in the central part of Gettysburg.

The architect was Herbert Plunkert, Littlestown and the contractor the Gettysburg Construction Co. with Joel Hill as construction foreman and Paul R. Knox as supervisor.

Attended Univ. Of Nevada

Mr. Bream, owner and developer of the shopping center, is a native of Gettysburg who attended schools here, Gettysburg College and the University of Nevada. During his school and college days he was an athlete of note in three sports, baseball, basketball and football.

He is a son of Mrs. Minnie Bream, Gettysburg. He entered the automobile business 21 years ago, at Buford and Seminary Aves. and Howard St., and is sales representative for Oldsmobile and Cadillac automobiles and GMC trucks. He is one of the largest used car dealers in this area and in Chambersburg where he also has a used car business, and employs 25 persons.

WELCOME TO GETTYSBURG SHOPPING CENTER

It is with humble, yet enthusiastic pride that we present to the citizens of this area a new and completely modern shopping center for our historic community.

That Adams Countians will benefit from the construction of Gettysburg Shopping Center is ample reward for those who initiated and participated in the project.—That visitors to Gettysburg may carry away with them the thought of progress as well as the satisfaction of having visited one of the nation's shrines is gratifying.

We welcome Acme Super Market to its new headquarters at the junction of Buford and Springs Avenues—West and Chambersburg Streets, and we extend congratulations on your Grand Opening.

Waynesboro Man Found Dead In Car

The body of Donald Stover Fitz, 40, purchasing agent of Landis Machine Company, missing since last Tuesday, was found at 8:25 a.m. Saturday in Mont Alto State Forest.

Fitz, police said, was a victim of asphyxiation from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Fitz's car was found parked on an unused logging trail between 200 and 300 feet off the Sand Bank Road, just south of the intersection with the Staley Road.

The car was found by Patrolman Walter Rottler of the Waynesboro Police Department.

The off-duty patrolmen, Rottler and Charles Mentzer, started combing the mountains early Saturday morning in a search for the missing man. The pair patrolled the mountain roads, and upon discovering tire marks leading off on seldom used roads, continued their search on foot.

It was on one of these foot patrols that Rottler came upon Fitz's green 1948 Dodge coupe.

PRESIDENT OF COLOMBIA BOWS TO ARMY CHIEF

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Rival political factions united today behind Colombia's new military-controlled government. Army Chief Lt. Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla ousted President Laureano Gomez in a coup Saturday night and installed himself as president. Not a shot was fired.

Leaders of the opposition Liberal party, which has been waging bitter warfare on the Conservative governments for years, in a statement endorsed the Army takeover, which it said was necessary "to bring the country out of political chaos and save it from grave consequences."

Leaders of both wings of the Conservative party, including supporters of Gomez, also endorsed the new regime.

Gomez was reported under arrest in his home. Unofficial reports were current that he might be permitted to leave the country.

The new President named a 13-man Cabinet including Army officers affiliated with no party and members of both Conservative factions. Rojas Pinilla said they would govern under military control until "clean elections" can be held.

On The House

- By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
The Associated Press

Are you afraid to build your own house? Most people are. And considering the risks involved, they should be. But after this department recently commented on this problem, a reader, David Humphrey of Pen Argyl, Pa., wrote us a letter to say he disagreed with "about 95 per cent" of that article.

Humphrey built his own house. Here is his letter, telling how he did it:

"If I had read your article before I started constructing my house, I probably would never have started. But since it is now completed and I know from my own experience what has taken place since I started my project, I would like to tell you my experience in building.

"I bought one of these 'Easy-to-Build-Your-Own-House' books which was invaluable to me. I studied it and used $500 of my $630 to buy a lot. I then borrowed $500 to have my foundation wall constructed.

"I could have done this myself, I'm sure, but I wanted to have that done in a hurry so as to be able to spend the whole summer on carpenter construction.

Feared The Mortgage

"The only place where I was afraid I might have difficulty was the mortgage end of it. I was very fortunate here though, in that a personal friend, placing enough confidence in me to be able to do the job, took the mortgage.

"I then purchased my rough lumber, put down my sub-floor and stored the remaining rough lumber in the cellar to be used as I needed it.

"The help I had on framing the house up to the roof rafters was my wife's 18-year-old brother and two boys who were sophomores in high school.

"When I got to the roof rafters, I hired a carpenter for one day to help me with this job, mainly because the mason in constructing my foundation wall was out of square 4¾ inches in a 30-foot run of the wall. My ridge pole would have had a slope if I wasn't careful in cutting the lengths of my rafters. So I though it advisable to hire experienced help for this job.

"I also had a mason for one day to erect my chimney.

"I put all the windows in myself at this point except two picture windows which my wife helped to put in and plumb up. I then put the slate on my roof with some help from the three boys previously mentioned.

"My next job was weather boarding the house and then I was finished with the shell of the house, I had started the subfloor in July and finished weather boarding in January, doing this work evenings and Saturdays (no Sunday work). An electrician was hired for one day to run my lines. He was hired mainly because of inspection difficulties.

Weather Boarding

"I installed a forced warm air coal heating system myself. I hired another mason for my plaster work becuase of the mistake made by the one who put in my foundation wall. But his plaster job was miserable — another job I think I could have done as well myself.

"I then laid the finish floors after which we moved in and the trim, hanging of the interior doors, and building of the cupboards and base cabinets I completed while living in our new house.

"In addition to building the house, I determined the grade and laid out the building lines for excavation, drew my own plans, figured out my own material list, dug two cesspits with pick and shovel and mixed 10 yards of concrete in a mortar box for my cellar floor.

"I had no previous experience along this line whatsoever, being exmployed in a textile mill from the time I was graduated from high school up until now.

Many Headaches

"In conclusion then, I might say that with my experience in building my own house, I'll have to disagree with you about 95 per cent of the article I read in tonight's paper.

"There were many headaches until I was finished. But if a man had the ambition and the will to do the job, it can be done.

"My own work on the house turned out better than the masonry work which was done by men who worked at it for for years, which proves that at times an amateur can do a better job than a professional.

"My grade elevation was 16 inches above the street level which I had intended it to be. A contractor figured out my neighbor's, which has a pitch about 12 inches down from the street toward the bottom of the weather board of his house. The way many of these contractors do work today, the amateur can do as good or better."

Our hat is off to Humphrey of Pen Argyl. But we still contend that every man can't do what he did.

WILL TEST NEW RELIEF PLAN TO CURB EXPENSE

HARRISBURG (AP) — An experimental program aimed at stopping "the constant increase in cost" of public assistance by giving relief recipients an allowance to pay their own medical expenses begins in Snyder County July 1.

Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, public assistance secretary, said the new program, if successful, would eliminate the state's having to pay the cost directly and stop what she said "actually is socialized medicine."

The plan will be extended to the whole state if successful in Snyder County, she added.

Here's the way it will work:

One dollar a month will be added to the relief check of persons on public assistance rolls to pay for medical services, instead of the doctors, dentists and druggists being paid by the state.

Raise Chronic Allowance

Where treatment is required for six months or more in chronic cases, the relief checks will be increased by $6 a month.

A one time payment of $35 will be made for child deliveries. Those on blind pension lists also will collect the extra monthly allowance.

Under the present plan, relief recipients may visit physicians when necessary. The doctors get $1.50 for an office visit, $2.50 for a home call and mileage expenses on long trips.

In 1952 the state spent an average of $1.75 per person to meet medical expenses of relief patients. Mrs. Evans said the state is now paying $4,800,000 in medical costs for 214,000 on relief rolls.

Mrs. Evans said that there has been "general dissatisfaction" within the professions under the present system of the state paying the bills.

Have Objectives

Any statewide program developed from the Snyder County experiment would have to meet these objectives, Mrs. Evans added:

1. Keep the government out of the medical profession as much as possible.
2. Simplify administration procedures in order to eliminate "red tape" in the Public Assistance Department.
3. Require patient paticipation in decision where medical care and medications are required. The present system does not require any concern by the reliefer-patient over the cost of medical care.
4. A plan of cost control to set a limit that an agency could spend for medical services.

MONTGOMERY HAS SERIOUS POLIO OUTBREAK

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An urgent garbage, trash and barnyard cleanup campaign is under way in Montgomery to combat the nation's worst outbreak of polio thus far in 1953.

But the first response has been discouraging, and Dr. A. H. Graham, Montgomery County health officer, warned that the "people must co-operate" in the drive to stamp out breeding grounds for disease-carrying insects, particularly flies.

Forty-four children and two adults have been stricken with polio, the heaviest toll recorded here at this time of year. Twenty-eight of the victims have suffered partial or total paralysis, but there has been only one death so far.

Is Hardest Hit

Parents have been advised to keep children out of crowds, especially the younger ones, since at least two-thirds of the polio patients have been 6 or under. Ministers have urged the smaller ones to skip Sunday school for a while, and some public places have closed their doors to pre-school age boys and girls.

Dr. Morris Schaeffer, director of the virus laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service here, said Montgomery with a population of 105,000 is the hardest hit community in the nation on a per capita basis. The toll here is greater than the rest of Alabama put together.

Waynesboro Man Found Dead In Car

The body of Donald Stover Fitz, 40, purchasing agent of Landis Machine Company, missing since last Tuesday, was found at 8:25 a.m. Saturday in Mont Alto State Forest.

Fitz, police said, was a victim of asphyxiation from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Fitz's car was found parked on an unused logging trail between 200 and 300 feet off the Sand Bank Road, just south of the intersection with the Staley Road.

The car was found by Patrolman Walter Rottler of the Waynesboro Police Department.

The off-duty patrolmen, Rottler and Charles Mentzer, started combing the mountains early Saturday morning in a search for the missing man. The pair patrolled the mountain roads, and upon discovering tire marks leading off on seldom used roads, continued their search on foot.

It was on one of these foot patrols that Rottler came upon Fitz's green 1948 Dodge coupe.

PRESIDENT OF COLOMBIA BOWS TO ARMY CHIEF

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Rival political factions united today behind Colombia's new military-controlled government. Army Chief Lt. Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla ousted President Laureano Gomez in a coup Saturday night and installed himself as president. Not a shot was fired.

Leaders of the opposition Liberal party, which has been waging bitter warfare on the Conservative governments for years, in a statement endorsed the Army takeover, which it said was necessary "to bring the country out of political chaos and save it from grave consequences."

Leaders of both wings of the Conservative party, including supporters of Gomez, also endorsed the new regime.

Gomez was reported under arrest in his home. Unofficial reports were current that he might be permitted to leave the country.

The new President named a 13-man Cabinet including Army officers affiliated with no party and members of both Conservative factions. Rojas Pinilla said they would govern under military control until "clean elections" can be held.

On The House

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
The Associated Press

Are you afraid to build your own house? Most people are. And considering the risks involved, they should be. But after this department recently commented on this problem, a reader, David Humphrey of Pen Argyl, Pa., wrote us a letter to say he disagreed with "about 95 per cent" of that article.

Humphrey built his own house. Here is his letter, telling how he did it:

"If I had read your article before I started constructing my house, I probably would never have started. But since it is now completed and I know from my own experience what has taken place since I started my project, I would like to tell you my experience in building.

"I bought one of these 'Easy-to-Build-Your-Own-House' books which was invaluable to me. I studied it and used $500 of my $530 to buy a lot. I then borrowed $500 to have my foundation wall constructed.

"I could have done this myself, I'm sure, but I wanted to have that done in a hurry so as to be able to spend the whole summer on carpenter construction.

Feared The Mortgage

"The only place where I was afraid I might have difficulty was the mortgage end of it. I was very fortunate here though, in that a personal friend, placing enough confidence in me to be able to do the job, took the mortgage.

"I then purchased my rough lumber, put down my sub-floor and stored the remaining rough lumber in the cellar to be used as I needed it.

"The help I had on framing the house up to the roof rafters was my wife's 18-year-old brother and two boys who were sophomores in high school.

"When I got to the roof rafters, I hired a carpenter for one day to help me with this job, mainly because the mason in constructing my foundation wall was out of square 4¾ inches in a 30-foot run of the wall. My ridge pole would have had a slope if I wasn't careful in cutting the lengths of my rafters. So I though it advisable to hire experienced help for this job

"I also had a mason for one day to erect my chimney.

"I put all the windows in myself at this point except two picture windows which my wife helped to put in and plumb up. I then put the slate on my roof with some help from the three boys previously mentioned.

"My next job was weather boarding the house and then I was finished with the shell of the house. I had started the subfloor in July and finished weather boarding in January, doing this work evenings and Saturdays (no Sunday work). An electrician was hired for one day to run my lines. He was hired mainly because of inspection difficulties.

Weather Boarding

"I installed a forced warm air coal heating system myself. I hired another mason for my plaster work becuase of the mistake made by the one who put in my foundation wall. But his plaster job was miserable — another job I think I could have done as well myself

"I then laid the finish floors after which we moved in and the trim, hanging of the interior doors, and building of the cupboards and base cabinets I completed while living in our new house.

"In addition to building the house, I determined the grade and laid out the building lines for excavation, drew my own plans, figured out my own material list, dug two cesspits with pick and shovel and mixed 10 yards of concrete in a mortar box for my cellar floor.

"I had no previous experience along this line whatsoever, being exmployed in a textile mill from the time I was graduated from high school up until now.

Many Headaches

"In conclusion then, I might say that with my experience in building my own house, I'll have to disagree with you about 95 per cent of the article I read in tonight's paper.

"There were many headaches until I was finished. But if a man had the ambition and the will to do the job, it can be done

"My own work on the house turned out better than the masonry work which was done by men who worked at it for for years, which proves that at times an amateur can do a better job than a professional

"My grade elevation was 15 inches above the street level which I had intended it to be. A contractor figured out my neighbor's which has a pitch about 12 inches down from the street toward the bottom of the weather board of his house. The way many of these contractors do work today, the amateur can do as good or better."

Our hat is off to Humphrey of Pen Argyl. But we still contend that every man can't do what he did.

WILL TEST NEW RELIEF PLAN TO CURB EXPENSE

HARRISBURG (AP) — An experimental program aimed at stopping "the constant increase in cost" of public assistance by giving relief recipients an allowance to pay their own medical expenses begins in Snyder County July 1.

Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, public assistance secretary, said the new program, if successful, would eliminate the state's having to pay the cost directly and stop what she said "actually is socialized medicine."

The plan will be extended to the whole state if successful in Snyder County, she added.

Here's the way it will work:

One dollar a month will be added to the relief check of persons on public assistance rolls to pay for medical services, instead of the doctors, dentists and druggists being paid by the state.

Raise Chronic Allowance

Where treatment is required for six months or more in chronic cases, the relief checks will be increased by $6 a month.

A one time payment of $35 will be made for child deliveries. Those on blind pension lists also will collect the extra monthly allowance.

Under the present plan, relief recipients may visit physicians when necessary. The doctors get $1.50 for an office visit, $2.50 for a home call and mileage expenses on long trips.

In 1952 the state spent an average of $1.75 per person to meet medical expenses of relief patients. Mrs. Evans said the state is now paying $4,800,000 in medical costs for 214,000 on relief rolls.

Mrs. Evans said that there has been "general dissatisfaction" within the professions under the present system of the state paying the bills.

Have Objectives

Any statewide program developed from the Snyder County experiment would have to meet these objectives, Mrs. Evans added:

1. Keep the government out of the medical profession as much as possible.

2. Simplify administration procedures in order to eliminate "red tape" in the Public Assistance Department.

3. Require patient paticipation in decision where medical care and medications are required. The present system does not require any concern by the reliefer-patient over the cost of medical care.

4. A plan of cost control to set a limit that an agency could spend for medical services.

MONTGOMERY HAS SERIOUS POLIO OUTBREAK

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An urgent garbage, trash and barnyard cleanup campaign is under way in Montgomery to combat the nation's worst outbreak of polio thus far in 1953.

But the first response has been discouraging, and Dr. A. H. Graham, Montgomery County health officer, warned that the "people must co-operate" in the drive to stamp out breeding grounds for disease-carrying insects, particularly flies.

Forty-four children and two adults have been stricken with polio, the heaviest toll recorded here at this time of year. Twenty-eight of the victims have suffered partial or total paralysis, but there has been only one death so far.

Is Hardest Hit

Parents have been advised to keep children out of crowds, especially the younger ones, since at least two-thirds of the polio patients have been 8 or under. Ministers have urged the smaller ones to skip Sunday school for a while, and some public places have closed their doors to pre-school age boys and girls.

Dr. Morris Schaeffer, director of the virus laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service here, said Montgomery with a population of 105,000 is the hardest hit community in the nation on a per capita basis. The toll here is greater than the rest of Alabama put together.

WARNS AGAINST "BOOK BURNERS" IN ADDRESS AT HANOVER, N. H.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, speaking out against "the book burners," declared yesterday that Americans must fight communism "with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people."

Eisenhower named no names, but his statement recalled the demand by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), acceded to by the State Department, that the government withdraw from its overseas libraries books by authors who are known Communists or fellow travelers.

The President said even those with whose views we disagree have a right to have their views on record in public places—"or it is not America."

Must Know What It Is

"Don't join the book burners," he told the graduating class at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H. "Don't think you are going to swerve something by concealing evidence that it ever existed, don't be afraid to go to the library and read every book, so long as that document does not offend our own ideas of decency . . .

"How will we defeat communism, unless we know what it is, and why it has such an appeal for men? Why are so many people swearing allegiance to it? It is almost a religion—albeit in one of the nether regions. We have got to fight it with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people."

This was the first of two short talks the President made yesterday in the whirlwind finish to a five-day speaking tour which took him into five states. He also flew over serious storm damage in Michigan and Massachusetts and pledged federal aid and money toward reconstructions.

From New Hampshire, the President flew to Oyster Bay, N. Y., about 30 miles east of New York City, and dedicated the summer home of Theodore Roosevelt as a national shrine. He shared the platform with former President Herbert Hoover and New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Eisenhower said there is a tendency to overdramatize the former Rough Rider, and he added:

"The fact is he was a wise leader. He was not a swashbuckler, he was not a bull in a china shop . . . .

"He was a man who understood his fellow human beinsg. . . ."

A BIG BABY AND ITS MOTHER — "Baby," six-weeks-old, 130-pound hippopotamus, seeks advice from mother, "Seraphine," during first public appearance at the Paris Zoo.

The English coronations were first conducted in English in 1603, having been conducted in Latin before that.

Excavations continue on the site of ancient Pompei in Italy which was buried by lava. One third of the city remains to be uncovered.

FRENCH MAY DEPOSE KING

SAIGON, Indochina (AP) — French circles said here today that France may have to depose King Norodom Sihanouk if he does not soon end his self-imposed exile in Thailand and return to his Indochinese kingdom of Cambodia.

The 31-year-old monarch and an automobile entourage of 27 persons suddenly popped across the border Saturday and arrived in Bangkok yesterday. The monarch said he hoped to force France to grant fuller freedom to his Communist-threatened kingdom.

Before departing, the King transferred full power to his Prime Minister, Pen Nouth, who remained in Cambodia's capital, Phnom Penh. The King gave no indication he intended to abdicate.

In Bangkok today, a spokesman for the King said he had fled to prevent an anti-French revolution, and to lead a crusade to rally world opinion which he hoped would force France to grant his country independence.

Sweden has about 25,000 factories and workshops, about half of which have less than 10 workers each.

WARNS AGAINST "BOOK BURNERS" IN ADDRESS AT HANOVER, N. H.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, speaking out against "the book burners," declared yesterday that Americans must fight communism "with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people."

Eisenhower named no names, but his statement recalled the demand by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), acceded to by the State Department, that the government withdraw from its overseas libraries books by authors who are known Communists or fellow travelers.

The President said even those with whose views we disagree have a right to have their views on record in public places—"or it is not America."

Must Know What It Is

"Don't join the book burners," he told the graduating class at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H. "Don't think you are going to swerve something by concealing evidence that it ever existed, don't be afraid to go to the library and read every book, so long as that document does not offend our own ideas of decency ...

"How will we defeat communism, unless we know what it is, and why it has such an appeal for men? Why are so many people swearing allegiance to it? It is almost a religion—albeit in one of the nether regions. We have got to fight it with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people."

This was the first of two short talks the President made yesterday in the whirlwind finish to a five-day speaking tour which took him into five states. He also flew over serious storm damage in Michigan and Massachusetts and pledged federal aid and money toward reconstructions.

From New Hampshire, the President flew to Oyster Bay, N. Y., about 30 miles east of New York City, and dedicated the summer home of Theodore Roosevelt as a national shrine. He shared the platform with former President Herbert Hoover and New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Eisenhower said there is a tendency to overdramatize the former Rough Rider, and he added:

"The fact is he was a wise leader. He was not a swashbuckler, he was not a bull in a china shop ....

"He was a man who understood his fellow human beinsg. . . ."

A BIG BABY AND ITS MOTHER — "Baby," six-week-old, 220-pound hippopotamus, seeks advice from mother, "Seraphine," during first public appearance at the Paris Zoo.

The English coronations were first conducted in English in 1603, having been conducted in Latin before that.

Excavations continue on the site of ancient Pompei in Italy which was buried by lava. One third of the city remains to be uncovered.

FRENCH MAY DEPOSE KING

SAIGON, Indochina (AP) — French circles said here today that France may have to depose King Norodom Sihanouk if he does not soon end his self-imposed exile in Thailand and return to his Indochinese kingdom of Cambodia.

The 31-year-old monarch and an automobile entourage of 27 persons suddenly popped across the border Saturday and arrived in Bangkok yesterday. The monarch said he hoped to force France to grant fuller freedom to his Communist-threatened kingdom.

Before departing, the King transferred full power to his Prime Minister, Pen Nouth, who remained in Cambodia's capital, Phnom Penh. The King gave no indication he intended to abdicate.

In Bangkok today, a spokesman for the King said he had fled to prevent an anti-French revolution, and to lead a crusade to rally world opinion which he hoped would force France to grant his country independence.
